Stalled Peace Talks Begin Saturday

Major Breakthrough

PARIS (AP) — The United States and North Vietnam, with the consent of their respective allies, announced today a major breakthrough which will permit the long-stalled Vietnam peace talks to begin Saturday morning.

The American, North Vietnamese and South Vietnamese and National Liberation Front delegations will meet around an unmarked round table at the International Conference Center.

A U. S. spokesman refused to characterize the agreement in any way, or to say whether it presented a concession by the U. S.- Saigon side, which had been insistent all along on a marked table which would clearly show that the peace conference was two-sided.

Agree On Table Issue

Evidently the agreement was reached with the understanding that the two sides could view the conference in any way they chose, and the Americans and South Vietnamese still stress their view that it will be two-sided.

The sudden and unexpected breakthrough makes it possible for peace conference machinery to be in motion two days before the expiration of President Johnson's term of office.

But for some time it is expected the enlarged conference will deal with procedural matters before it finally gets down to talking about how to achieve peace in Vietnam.

Obviously, the two-side, four-side disagreement continues but has been shunted aside by common consent.

The North Vietnamese spokesman characterized the coming meeting as four-sided. The Saigon spokesman stressed two sides.

Nguyen Than Le, the North Vietnamese spokesman, said the conference would be made up four delegations "to reflect the idea that they are equal." South Vietnam has stubbornly resisted the idea that the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front should have a status of equality with the Saigon government.

Delegates To Total 16

The first meeting, opening at 10:30 a.m. — 4:30 a.m., EST — Saturday will thus be at a round table with four members of each delegation present, a total of 16, plus secretaries as needed.

The deputy heads of the delegations will be present, since there are still procedural matters to be discussed. Thus, Ambassador Cyrus R. Vance will represent the United States, Col. Ha Van Lau the North Vietnamese, Nguyen Phong the South Vietnamese and Mrs. Nguyn Thi Binh, the NLF.

Vance and Lau reached the agreement after two last-minute meetings, one of an hour and a half Wednesday an other of a half hour this morning.

The shape of the table and speaking arrangements had been at the core of the wrangle which had held up the enlarged talks ever since President Johnson announced the end of the bombing of North Vietnam Oct. 31 and opened the way for a new phase of the conference.

Hints Victory For Hanoi

The North Vietnamese spokesman, as if suggesting that the solution was a victory for his side, told newsmen Hanoi had proposed a round table as long ago as Dec. 12, and "the United States and the Saigon administration must bear the entire responsibility for the fact that it has taken to Jan. 18 for the conference to meet."

South Vietnam's spokesman insisted that the accord showed his governments good will.

There will be no flags or emblems in the conference room.

The first session, at least, will be held in private. The North Vietnamese said they wanted the meeting to be public but that the United States objected. The Americans said future meetings might be open to the press.

The agreement appears to have compromised the two-side, four-side argument by leaving the table unmarked, but by arranging at the same time a speaking order which suggested two sides.

Saigon, U.S. First

On the first day the Saigon-American side will speak first, and at the next meeting, the Hanoi-NLF side will speak first. For the Saturday meeting the allied side has designated Phong, Saigon's No. 2 man, as the speaker, followed by Vance.

Economic Report Says Successor To Face Big Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today in his final Economic Report that he's leaving behind a solid foundation for continued prosperity, but he conceded that his successor will have to deal with major problems in the economy.

The President, in sending his report to Congress, said the United States has experienced an unprecedented period of prosperity in the last eight years, all under Democratic administrations. This has permitted, he said, major investments whch should insure continued economic growth for the indefinite future.

To support Johnson's case, the Economic Report listed investments in:

—Industrial plant and equipment, which has grown by nearly a third in five years.

—Manpower, more than a million persons have acquired skills through government-aided programs.

—Education, which has seen a spectacular increase of 2.2 million in college enrollments since 1963.

—Urban centers which, the President said, are beginning to be restored "has decent places to live."

Johnson said, "The nation is now in its 95th month of continuous economic advance. Both in strength and length, this prosperity is without parallel in our history.

"We have steered clear of the business-cycle recessions which for generations derailed us repeatedly from our path of growth and progress."

But the President saw one flaw in his generally rosy economic analysis—the wage-price spiral which became especially serious in 1968.

He insisted that this was caused in no small part by the failure of Congress to enact the 10 per cent income surtax in January, 1967, when he first asked for it. The bill passed 18 months later.

Congressional critics have said this delay resulted largely from a refusal by Johnson and his Defense Department to present the true costs of the Vietnam war at the time they first became obvious.

In any event, Johnson declared in his report that the job of combining national prosperity with price stability "is the biggest remaining over-all challenge facing the nation."

Cosmonauts Are First To Achieve Feat

Vehicles Linked Up Just Before Pair Made Space History

MOSCOW (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts tansferred from one orbiting spaceship to another today, scoring a dramatic first for the Soviet space program.

The two space ships, Soyuz 4 and Soyuz 5, had linked up in orbit shortly before cosmonauts Yevgeny Khrunov and Alexei Yeliseyev made the transfer.

The official news agency Tass said they moved from Soyuz 5 to join Vladimir Shatalov in Soyuz 4, leaving Boris Volynov alone in Soyuz 5.

Radio Moscow said the two cosmonauts were outside the linked-up ships "about an hour."

Khrunov and Yelseyev donned space suits just before the maneuver. Radio Moscow said the suits were equipped with a new life-support system.

"Thus Shatalov's two-day solitude in orbit was over," Tass said.

Khrunov exited from Soyuz 5 and climbed aboard the companion ship above the territory of South America. Yeliseyev made his move over the Soviet Union.

"The condition of all cosmonauts is good," Radio Moscow said.

Moscow television showed a delayed videotape of the two cosmonauts inside the orbiting ship preparing to make the transfer. Volynov helped Yeliseyev and Khrunov get into their suits.

"Our condition is excellent," Volynov reported.

"Don't be in a hurry," a voice from ground control said.

GOP 'Questions' Surplus In Budget

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republicans in Congress are complaining that the $195.3 billion spending budget submitted to Congress by President Johnson will produce a deficit instead of the surplus that Johnson claimed.

Democrats, meanwhile, indicated they will wait to see President-elect Nixon's legislative program before they act to put Johnson's proposals for full funding of welfare programs into effect.

Senate Minority Leader Everett M. Dirkson of Illinois said his fellow Republicans are waiting to "get the figuring straight" before pouncing on Johnson's contention that his budget would give Nixon a $3.4 billion surplus in the fiscal year beginning July 1.

But Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, a new member of the Senate Finance Committee, pinpointed the GOP's main objection. He said Johnson had counted as revenue surpluses being piled up in trust fund accounts for future Social Security and medicare benefits.

"What really counts," Miller said, "is the regular operating accounts. If deficits occur in these, they must be covered by increased federal borrowing—the root cause of the inflation that has been sweeping the country.

Union Calls Meeting In Bliss Strike

United Steelworkers of America Local 1269 at the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. in Midland has called a meeting Friday in an effort to end a work stoppage at the plant.

Some 319 men were off the job today in a dispute about which union officials said they are not entirely clear.

A meeting of union members is set for Friday afternoon at 1 at the USA-CIO Hall in Midland. Union officials urged members to attend in order to end the walkout, pointing out negotiations cannot be started with management until the men return to their jobs.

A union spokesman said talks had been held with the company this week about a seniority problem, but there apparently are other issues involved.

There were no pickets at the plant today.

Postal Clerk Charged With Theft Of Mail

A clerk at the downtown post office on Dresden Ave. faces a hearing in federal court at Cleveland on a charge of "embezzlement of mail."

He is John T. Smith, 28, of 232 Virginia Ave., Chester, an employe in the main office here 9½ years.

Postal inspectors from Columbus, under the supervision of Eugene Pinson of the Cincinnati regional office, took Smith into custody about 6 last night as he left the office here.

They said he had a "number of pieces of mail in his possession," but was charged specifically with the theft of one letter under Title 18, Section 1709, of the U.S. Code.

Smith was taken before U.S. Commissioner Thomas Moore at Youngstown, where his personal bond was set at $1,500.

A trial date will be set later in federal court at Cleveland by Assistant U.S. Atty. Harry E. Pickering.

Postmaster Samuel W. Brown cooperated in the investigation, the inspectors said.

Investigators Seek Cause Of Carrier Blasts, Blaze

PEARL HARBOR (AP)—The U.S. Navy carried on with cleanup operations aboard the nuclear aircraft carrier Enterprise today as investigators sought to pin down the cause of explosions and fire which killed 25 crewmen and injured 85.

A 26th sailor was missing in the disaster which struck the 85,000- ton warship on a training exercise 75 miles southwest of Honolulu Tuesday.

Adm. John J. Hyland, commander of the Pacific fleet, said he was "confident that we are going to be able to establish exactly what did happen and what caused it."

The explosions and fire put the Enterprise, world's largest combat vessel, out of action until repairs are completed. No official source would guess how long this would take.

It was indicated that the ship would start back to its home port of Alameda, Calif., as soon as possible.

"We'll choose the location which will be able to make repairs best and quickest so that we can return the Enterprise to service just as soon as it can possibly be done," said Hyland.

In Honolulu's Tripler Army Hospital, 58 injured crewmen were still under treatment, four in serious condition. Another nine were flown to a special burns treatment center at Brooke Army Hospital in Texas.

An air-sea search for a missing crewmen was called off at sunset Wednesday.

New Terms Granted 4 By Credit Union

The board of directors of the City Employes Federal Credit Union returned all officers to new one-year terms following the annual meeting Wednesday night at City Hall.

The directors returned: D. G. Wilkinson, income tax office supervisor, as president; Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne, vice president; Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger, secretary, and Mrs. Jean Saucer of the income tax office, treasurer. Water Supt. Harold Peterson also was returned as chairman of the credit committee.

Wilbur J. Harmon, Municipal Court Clerk, Marvin Wooley, building and zoning inspector, and Mrs. Saucer were named to directors' posts without opposition. Mrs. Helen Steffen of the Municipal Court staff was elected to the credit committee. Zollinger headed the nominating commitee. The group also accepted "with regret" the resignation of John Melvin, incinerator superintendent, as a director.

The board voted to pay a 5 per cent dividend on savings. John Howell, field representative of the Ohio Credit Union Association, was guest speaker. He commended the group on its growth in approximately five years since it was established.

The question of establishing a Christmas Club was approved in an informal poll. The action will be voted on at the monthly meeting Jan. 23 in the Council chamber.

Peterson, reporting for the credit committee, said loans totaling $29,808.26 were made during 1968. Zollinger read the minutes of the last annual meeting. Mrs. Saucer presented the treasurer's report showing 1968 was one of the best year's in the union's history. Wilkinson presided.

Probe Goes On In Church Theft

SALINEVILLE — Investigation is continuing into the theft of a typewriter, record player and slide projector and screen from the Salineville United Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Police Chief Gordon Sweeney said the robbery was committed by someone who apparently knew where to obtain the key to the office. The door was not forced and the lock was not broken. The door was relocked by the robber when he left.

A cleaning woman at the bank across the street saw the articles being carried and put in a car, but thought it was just someone who was supposed to have them in their possession, police said.

The Rev. Ralph Chambers, pastor of the church, discovered the theft at 6:45 p. m. Sunday and reported it to police.

The directors returned: D. G. Wilkinson, income tax office supervisor, as president; Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne, vice president; Auditor Lawrence J. Zollinger, secretary, and Mrs. Jean Saucer of the income tax office, treasurer. Water Supt. Harold Peterson also was returned as chairman of the credit committee.

Mrs. Helen Steffen of the Municipal Court staff was elected to the credit committee. Zollinger headed the nominating commitee. The group also accepted "with regret" the resignation of John Melvin, incinerator superintendent, as a director.

The board voted to pay a 5 per cent dividend on savings. John Howell, field representative of the Ohio Credit Union Association, was guest speaker. He commended the group on its growth in approximately five years since it was established.

The question of establishing a Christmas Club was approved in an informal poll. The action will be voted on at the monthly meeting Jan. 23 in the Council chamber.

Probe Goes On In Church Theft

SALINEVILLE — Investigation is continuing into the theft of a typewriter, record player and slide projector and screen from the Salineville United Methodist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m.

Police Chief Gordon Sweeney said the robbery was committed by someone who apparently knew where to obtain the key to the office. The door was not forced and the lock was not broken. The door was relocked by the robber when he left.

A cleaning woman at the bank across the street saw the articles being carried and put in a car, but thought it was just someone who was supposed to have them in their possession, police said.

The Rev. Ralph Chambers, pastor of the church, discovered the theft at 6:45 p. m. Sunday and reported it to police.

Ohio Assembly Prepares For Workshop, Seminar

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Legislature was expected to wind up its second week by noon today and prepare for a precedent-breaking workshop and seminar at Burr Oak State Park next week.

The House planned to convene for a brief skeleton session and the Senate was to meet regularly later and adjourn without important business.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess said the workshop will be held Monday through Thursday near Athens.

"What we have in mind is a session where legislators can be briefed in candid off-the-record discussions," he said.

Meantime, a few lawmakers will remain at Columbus to refer new bills to committees.

As the General Assembly prepared for the customary deluge of individually-sponsored porposals, it became apparent that the needs of Ohio's cities would stir interest and controversy later.

Spokesmen of both parties are acknowledging that the trend is towards more financial help for local governments from the state.

"We should try to do more for local government this session besides permissive taxes," said Sen. Michael J. Maloney, R-Cincinnati, the assistant majority leader.

Maloney heads a legislative study committee which probably will suggest that the state give back $5 million more to local communities next year.

And the Ohio Committee of County Officials and the Ohio Municipal League have endorsed a plan urging that 10 per cent of the sales tax collected be placed in the local government fund.

The Democratic Policy Committee submitted the proposal Wednesday.

Chairman David Headley of Barberton said the arrangement would have brought cities $48 million last fiscal year, double the actual amount they received from the state treasury.

Meantime, a joint Urban Affairs Study Committee received a report from the Legislative Service Commission saying Ohio's eight largest counties have a disproportionate share of urban problems.

The committee, tryng to come up with changes in the law to help larger cities, noted that local taxing powers are limited under the current setup.

The new bills kept rolling on. Few if any have the sponsorship of the administration of Gov. James Rhodes — whose serious programs will be submitted later in the session.

Among the new proposals in the House:

— Putting teeth in the Air Pollution Control Law by providing penalties.

— Reducing from the current .15 level to .10 the blood alcohol content allowed for persons considered under the influence of alcohol.

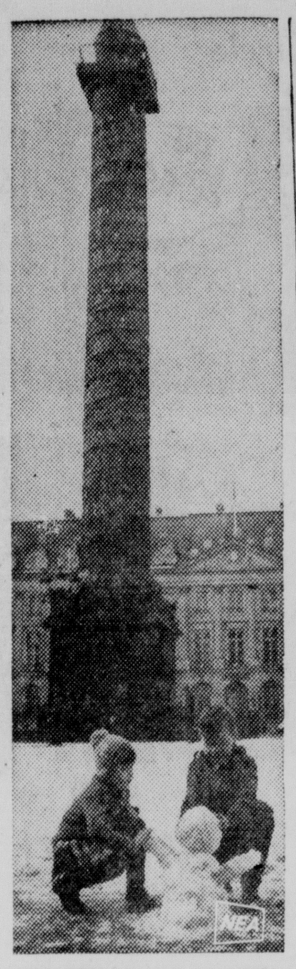

— Requiring the state and political subdivisions to buy group health insurance for every employe and family.

In the Senate:

— Permitting county commissioners to approve revenue bonds and build a county-operated hospital without the vote of the people.

— Allowing the Department of Public Welfare to dispense medical aid to persons who don't qualify under income requirements, as long as federal money is available.

— Requiring a clear identification as political advertisements in all printed or broadcast material used in political campaigns.

Palestine Man Slates Race For Council Post

EAST PALESTINE — Ray Humphreys of 544 Grandview Ave., a mortician with the Van-Dyke Funeral Home, said today he will seek nomination for the Fourth Ward Council post in the Republican primary election in May.

The post is held by Robert Berresford who has announced he will be a candidate for a Council - at - large post.

Humphrey came here 15 years ago from Grafton, and is a past president of the Rotary Club. This would be his first bid in politics.

The Chapel of the Presidents, a part of the new National Presbyterian Church and Center now under construction in Washington, D. C., will house memorabilia of past U.S. Presidents.

Pair Injured In 2 Mishaps

Two men were injured in a pair of East Liverpool traffic mishaps Wednesday.

Ronald Freeborough, 25, of Baden in Beaver County was treated at City Hospital after a collision on Park Blvd. that involved his 1967 model car and a 1967 model truck operated by Terry Lee Shields, 21, of Substation.

Freeborough told officers he was driving west when the eastbound truck skidded as it rounded a curve and hit his car almost head-on. Shields blamed slippery pavement for the collision.

Ray Richardson, 40, of 353 Grant St. complained of a neck injury following a collision at 2 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. in which his 1969 model car was struck from the rear by a 1964 model auto operated by David G. Lanam, 32, of 431 Commerce St., Wellsville. Richardson decilned medical treatment, however, police said.

Richardson told officers he was halted in a line of traffic when his car was hit from the rear by Lanam's. The Wellsville man reported he was watching a nearby police cruiser driven by Patrolman Jack Strobel and did not see the halted Richardson car in time to avoid a collision.

Lanam was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A mishap on Broadway 90 feet north of E. 6th St. at 1:30 p.m. involved a 1960 four-door sedan driven by John Noal Siddell, 68, of 121 Reynolds St. and a parked 1968 sedan operated by Arthur Lewis of Route 30, Chester, and owned by the TPL Co. of Kent, officers said. The left front fender of Lewis' car was damaged. Siddell told police he bumped the parked car while backing from a parking meter space.

— Allowing the Department of Public Welfare to dispense medical aid to persons who don't qualify under income requirements, as long as federal money is available.

— Requiring a clear identification as political advertisements in all printed or broadcast material used in political campaigns.

Pair Injured In 2 Mishaps

Two men were injured in a pair of East Liverpool traffic mishaps Wednesday.

Ronald Freeborough, 25, of Baden in Beaver County was treated at City Hospital after a collision on Park Blvd. that involved his 1967 model car and a 1967 model truck operated by Terry Lee Shields, 21, of Substation.

Freeborough told officers he was driving west when the eastbound truck skidded as it rounded a curve and hit his car almost head-on. Shields blamed slippery pavement for the collision.

Ray Richardson, 40, of 353 Grant St. complained of a neck injury following a collision at 2 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. in which his 1969 model car was struck from the rear by a 1964 model auto operated by David G. Lanam, 32, of 431 Commerce St., Wellsville. Richardson decilned medical treatment, however, police said.

Richardson told officers he was halted in a line of traffic when his car was hit from the rear by Lanam's. The Wellsville man reported he was watching a nearby police cruiser driven by Patrolman Jack Strobel and did not see the halted Richardson car in time to avoid a collision.

Lanam was cited on a charge of failure to stop in the assured clear distance.

A mishap on Broadway 90 feet north of E. 6th St. at 1:30 p.m. involved a 1960 four-door sedan driven by John Noal Siddell, 68, of 121 Reynolds St. and a parked 1968 sedan operated by Arthur Lewis of Route 30, Chester, and owned by the TPL Co. of Kent, officers said. The left front fender of Lewis' car was damaged. Siddell told police he bumped the parked car while backing from a parking meter space.

'Doing Something' And More

A remarkable aspect of the community awards presentation Wednesday night honoring Charles Lang and Harold Barth was not so much revelation of the broad range of activities they have undertaken, but their plans for continuing efforts in the future.

Lang, 28, with careers in law and banking and busy in Jaycee, Red Cross, fund raising, church and Campfire projects, looks hopefully to establishment of a citywide recreation program.

Disappointed at the rejection of a levy proposal for the plan last year, Lang declared he would exchange the coveted award "tomorrow for a city recreation director," and pledged to work for implementing the proposal this year.

Barth, ageless chronicler of the area history and long a part of its civic structure, at 84 is at work helping to obtain a pottery museum for East Liverpool.

There is little enough material reward or expressed gratitude for "doing something" for fellow townspeople, and these two men have far surpassed their obligations as citizens, yet press on.

What have you done for your community lately?

Was Sirhan Responsible?

It is more than seven months since Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was assassinated and still the trial of his slayer has not begun.

The tedious process of selecting a jury now is under way, however, and there is at least hope that the trial can get started within the next month.

WHAT IS DIFFICULT for the average citizen to understand is how so much time could be consumed and so much money spent in preliminaries when the defense counsel concedes that Sirhan Sirhan killed the late senator. The chief defense counsel is on record as saying there will be no denial that our client fired the shot."

The case will apparently be concerned then with the motivation (what was going on in the mind) of the man who killed Sen. Kennedy at the time he pulled the trigger.

The defense will endeavor to show reasonable doubt that Sirhan was fully responsible for his actions at the moment. A technicality of the law referred to as diminished responsibility" makes this type of defense possible.

There are Americans everywhere who, disgusted by the seeming softness of law enforcement in the wake of certain U.S. Supreme Court rulings, already are saying bitterly: They'll turn him loose" or He'll never go to the gas chamber."

If the workings of the mind can be used to save an admitted slayer from the maximum penalty, then there would seem to be much less deterrent to the perpetration of any crime at any time or place, regardless of its magnitude.

FOR, RELATIVELY SPEAKING, so little is known of that complex mechanism, the brain, that it would be difficult for any jury to conclude, with conviction, that anyone was fully responsible" for any act.

The defense counsel, in the Sirhan case, has undoubtedly selected the best possible technicality to effect a minimal penalty for Sen. Kennedy's slayer.

We can only wait to see what verdict the jury renders and what its impact will be.

Letter To The Editor

I say "ditto" to Mr. Walton's letter to you in Saturday's column, as I would also like to know what is wrong with Wellsville and its school system.

Don't look down river Mr. McConville and tell us our troubles when you got more than you can handle up there. As a matter of fact we feel that we have an excellent administration, which does not have to call for outside help to settle personal disputes between two coaches.

So you just sit up there and comment about our school system, while we are down here laughing about yours.

When do the students learn anything? Is it while the coaches are being investigated or is it while the teachers are being investigated?

You keep looking at your profit and loss statements while we look at our fine staff of teachers and coaches and their morale. Compare!

We don't schedule eight home football games so we could make extra cash. We also don't refuse to schedule teams because we thought they might beat us.

In the sport page Saturday, Coach McConnell publicly "expressed" displeasure with the officiating" at Warren.

Is that how you teach sportsmanship to your players? I can't remember ever hearing a Wellsville coach make such a statement.

You know it's a shame that the hard work of the young progressive school board members is washed down the drain by the other conservative three.

Don't point your finger at us Harry, because your other three fingers are still pointing back at yourself. When you get all your problems solved, don't try to help us with ours, because we don't have any.

In Praise Of LBJ

By Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — This is the first week in five years that you can't hear an unkind word about President Lyndon Baines Johnson. As he is preparing to leave office his most ardent critics have changed their tunes and it's hard to believe that they are talking about the same man they were discussing a year ago.

Art Buchwald

One of his toughest critics said at a party the other night, "He may have made mistakes but you can't fault him on what he tried to do."

Another Johnson nonadmirer agreed, "If Nixon does half as well as Lyndon did, he'll be a good president."

"Nixon won't. They don't make presidents like LBJ anymore."

"YOU KNOW WHAT I LIKED about Johnson?" another former anti-Johnson man said. "His style. He had a free-wheeling style which made you admire him. I think Nixon's biggest weakness is he has no style."

"You can say that again. Lyndon came from Texas and at least you knew where he stood on the issues."

"You'r right. You have no idea where Nixon stands on anything."

"Johnson really worked as president," said another man who used to get red when Lyndon's name was mentioned. "Maybe he had his faults but he also had his strengths, and his strengths outnumbered his faults."

"Nixon's faults outnumber his strengths."

A lady nodded her head. "I can't stand Nixon on TV. At least when you saw Johnson on TV you knew he was sincere."

The lady next to her agreed. "President Johnson had kind eyes and a sincere chin."

"He was good to the poor," I said, not wanting to look as if I had anything against Johnson.

"And he worried about the black people," a former McCarthy supporter said.

"Nixon won't hold a candle to him when it comes to what Johnson did for education."

"AND DON'T FORGET the redwood trees in California," someone else said. "To this day, people don't know how Johnson saved the redwood trees."

"I think when I remember Johnson," said nother person, "it will be for Medicare.

"You know Nixon won't do anything for sick people."

"Why should he? They aren't his people."

I tried to bring some balance back into the conversation.

"I guess if you'd have to fault Johnson at all, it would be in foreign affairs."

Everyone turned on me angrily.

"He thought he was doing the right thing at the time."

"He was only following the policies of Kennedy and Eisenhower."

"Do you think Nixon is going to do any better?"

I TRIED TO RECOUP. "There'll never be another Lady Bird."

Another ex-Johnson hater said, "I'm going to miss the whole Johnson family, including Jack Valenti's daughter."

"Tricia will never be another Lynda Bird."

"And Julie will never be another Luci."

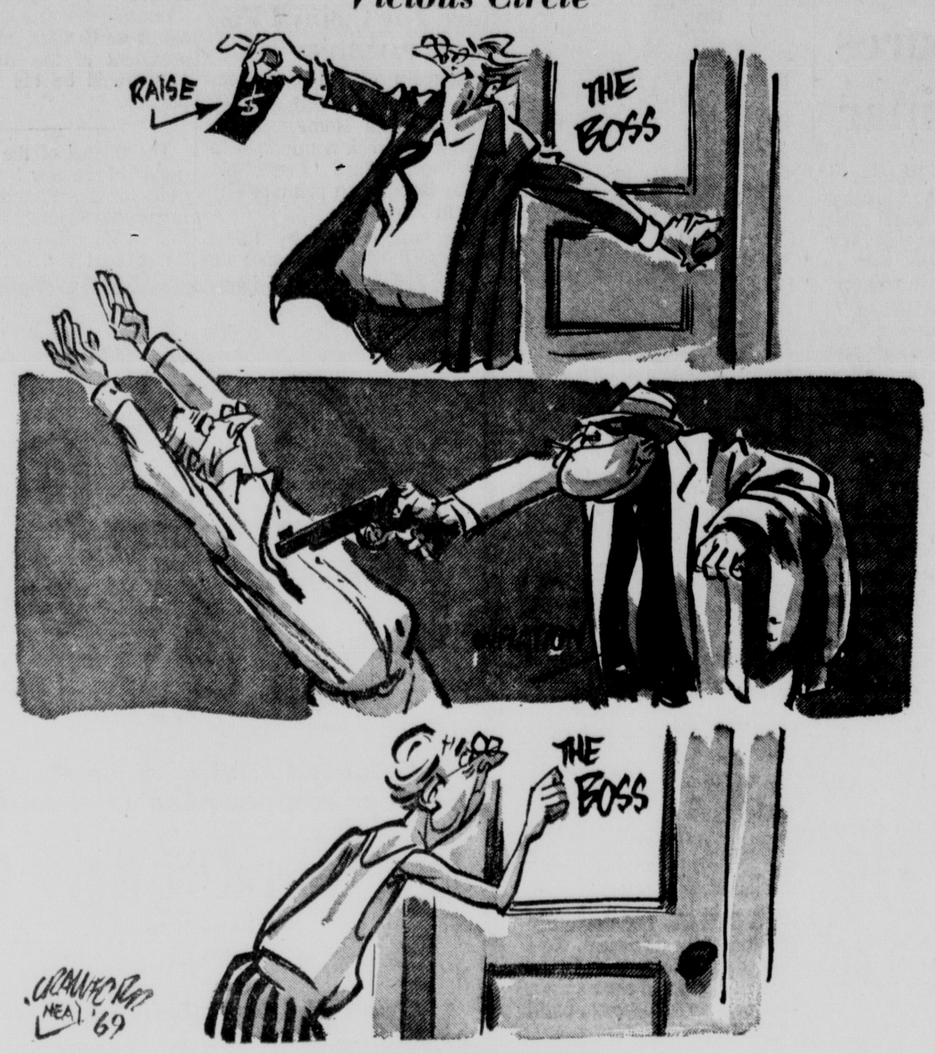

I was starting to choke up. "I don't want him to go," I cried.

"None of us do," a former ADA president sobbed.

"The whole part is that he'll never know how we felt about him."

"Yeh, and Nixon won't even have the class to tell him."

Vicious Circle

VICTOR RIESEL

Nixon Calls On Old Enemies

There were intellectuals in abundant numbers — any one of whom six months ago would have challenged you to a predawn duel on Central Park's sheep meadow at the mere insinuation that he was going to rub shoulders with chairmen of Mr. Nixon's 22 task forces.

Mr. Nixon and the men of his inner sanctums knew they were here. They came by invitation, not infiltration.

They made up a strange new world of thought, an economic, intellectual, philosophical and cultural "conglomerate." Rubbing shoulders were essayists, professional liberals, conservatives, bankers, academicians, hardliners, financiers, construction magnates, Wall Street lawyers, hawks and doves.

That's the way Dick Nixon wants it. That's the way he has had it for some weeks now.

"THE INTELLECTUALS who have been in and out of government and political parties," said one Nixon intimate, "are the best critics of what has happened. They are lively guides to what should be done. There's a climate of anxiety and hope, and this willingness to rub shoulders can only help the nation. They are a great mixture."

Typical is the task force on voluntary action, directed at "solving" the urban and suburban crises. In effect, its assignment, as handed to Richard Cornell of the Center for Independent Action (no initials, please), is to get the inner cities and the savants to solve matters by substituting energy for money, meaning self-help and private financing, and thus build "bridges to dignity."

Its hideaway last Friday was the Hotel Plaza, that umbilical link with Diamond Jim Brady's day, catty-cornered from the Hotel Pierre. This task force is indeed a conglomerate — running all the way from Al Cole, chairman of the Reader's Digest Executive Committee, to Richard Goodwin and Irving Kristol.

And to get these men to rub shoulders in behalf of Richard Nixon's leadership takes considerable doing. A more sweeping united front never has been welded.

It has been quite a route for the acidy gadfly Dick Goodwin — Harvard Law, Felix Frankfurter, John Kennedy, Bob Kennedy, Dean Rusk, Lyndon Johnson, Sen. McCarthy, a pass at Ted Kennedy and now on to a Nixon task force.

It was Dick Goodwin who whipped phrases into some of John Kennedy's best speeches. It was Goodwin who went to the Punta Del Este Latin American conference for Dean Rusk. It was Goodwin who linked Sen. Gene McCarthy to the new youth and gave the politically meandering poet a voice in the village of hippy and flower power.

IT EVEN IS STRANGE to see Goodwin sit with Irving Kristol, a young old Social Democrat who once edited the brilliant London monthly Encounter for the Congress For Cultural Freedom.

Mr. Kristol is a conservative liberal's comfort. He's as intellectual as any and knows his way through the labyrinthine old left of Max Eastman, The New Leader, and Commentary.

Dick Goodwin and Irvining Kristol have their prototypes on other task forces devoted to crime, pollution, civil rights, fiscal management, education, public welfare, health and government welfare.

These are men who have not pledged to kiss and not tell — or not denounce. They are not bound by any pledges of secrecy and some are saying that "little will come of this."

BUT IT IS A POLITICAL risk Richard Nixon took quite deliberately in his search for sparkling ideas, his demands for program evaluation, in his urgings upon his own command headquarters people for the redefining of the structure of government, programming and legislation.

"What we wanted, despite this high political risk," said one of those who gets up to the 39th floor, "was to get the idea process moving. So we called friends and non-friends, even antagonists. What we wanted and got is challenging questioning.

"This gives us innovation from a wide range of sources, and in each case expert sources."

It's a daring concept. Mr. Nixon does not intend to isolate himself, nor his White House, from it. He too is willing to rub shoulders. As someone said over at the Pierre last weekend, "this is a new kind of presidentry."

Actually its the eclectic application of an old theory: From each according to his ability, so long as he's willing to give for his country.

Timely Quotes

"Let us hope we can overcome the myth of omnipotence and learn that the proper use of science is not to conquer the world but to live in it."

There's Change In The Air

A feeling of change" is in the air. It is, of course, stimulated by the prospective exit of the Johnson administration and preparations for the start of a new administration here next week.

The demand for change" has been emphasied by a substantial majority of the voters and is far more than a passing interst of the American people in the gala of an inaugural. For the fact is the people are aroused.

They want to see action taken soon. They do not want vague statements offering hope while providing no assurance of a solution of the many troubles afflicting the nation.

WHAT IS AT THE BOTTOM of America's difficulties today in government? There is no easy answer, but to one who has watched the course of history through many administrations, the prime fault seems to be epitomized in a single word, politics."

Too many decisions are made with an eye to votes of this or that group. Rather than a positive course, the temptation is to try something in the middle of the road."

Instead of dealing decisively and immediately with a plain challenge, the tendency is to apply what is called gradualism" — a theory that sooner or later things will get better anyway.

This historian who examines the record of the last decade will have to write that many crises were avoided" only to precipitate bigger ones later on. When a war of sizable proportions gave this country a lopsided economy, appeals for restraint" were substituted for laws imposing wage-and-price controls.

Labor vehemently opposed the latter and business wasn't too enthusiastic either. President Johnson, however, basically appeared to be afraid of losing the support which is mobilized politically by the labor unions.

The same thing occurred when a new minimum-wage law was enacted. The pressure didn't come from the workers in low-wage groups, most of whom are not even members of unions. The law was passed instead because of the support lined up among the large labor unions, which knew it would automiatically push up all wage scales above the minimum.

It didn't seem to matter that prices would be pushed up, too.

As for the Vietnam War, the policy of gradualism" was tried. It was opposed by the military. The delay not only gave the enemy time to get more arms and support from the Soviet Union and Red China but enabled the antiwar critics to gather a larger and larger following inside the United States.

From a political standpoint, the Democratic administration didn't make the gains it expected from gradualism" and the enemy got considerable comfort out of the rise of the antiwar sentiment throughout America.

Policies of dilly-dallying have done great harm also in the handling of the internal war" across this country. The crime wave has risen to unprecedented heights. Disorders are numerous.

Rebellion in the colleges has merely emphasized the lack of firmness on the part of those who have authority to punish misbehavior.

Much of this attitude of indifference may be related to the demoralization of the police forces in many parts of the land or it may have resulted from the loose way the courts have ignored the civil rights of law-abiding citizens while criminals and "demonstrators" have been given a free hand.

But officials must have courage. This means a willingness to forgo the imaginary popularity" which supposedly can be obtained by reluctance to use vigorously the powers of prosecution.

The eyes of the nation will be focused now on the new attorney general. For what the federal government does can materially influence the local governments, too.

MANY PROBLEMS — Vietnam, law and order, inflation and the rigid economic controls which alone can save the country from a deep depression — can be tackled with a resoluteness that the American people will be able quickly to perceive and support if it is manifested by the new administration.

The central idea is to seek not what seems good politically but what is good for the nation, even if for a time there are discomforts and some adversity.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hole of Clarkson concluded a three-week vacation at Ft. Myers, Fla.

Mrs. Louise Polk of Broadway left for a four-month vacation in Los Angeles, Spokane, Wash. and Moshler, Ore.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Fire destroyed the straw shed of the Wellsville China Co., with about 40 tons of straw being lost.

Homer E. Graham was elected chairman and Sidney C. Porter clerk during the annual congregational meeting of the Newell First Presbyterian Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — Stanley Smusz was installed as president of the Chester Polish Lodge.

Plans for the second annual ministrel in March by the Salineville Ruritan Club were announced by James Wadowick and J. Warren Bettis, co-directors.

The lady next to her agreed. "President Johnson had kind eyes and a sincere chin."

"He was good to the poor," I said, not wanting to look as if I had anything against Johnson.

"And he worried about the black people," a former McCarthy supporter said.

"Nixon won't hold a candle to him when it comes to what Johnson did for education."

"AND DON'T FORGET the redwood trees in California," someone else said. "To this day, people don't know how Johnson saved the redwood trees."

"I think when I remember Johnson," said nother person, "it will be for Medicare.

"You know Nixon won't do anything for sick people."

"Why should he? They aren't his people."

I tried to bring some balance back into the conversation.

"I guess if you'd have to fault Johnson at all, it would be in foreign affairs."

Everyone turned on me angrily.

"He thought he was doing the right thing at the time."

"He was only following the policies of Kennedy and Eisenhower."

"Do you think Nixon is going to do any better?"

I TRIED TO RECOUP. "There'll never be another Lady Bird."

Another ex-Johnson hater said, "I'm going to miss the whole Johnson family, including Jack Valenti's daughter."

"Tricia will never be another Lynda Bird."

"And Julie will never be another Luci."

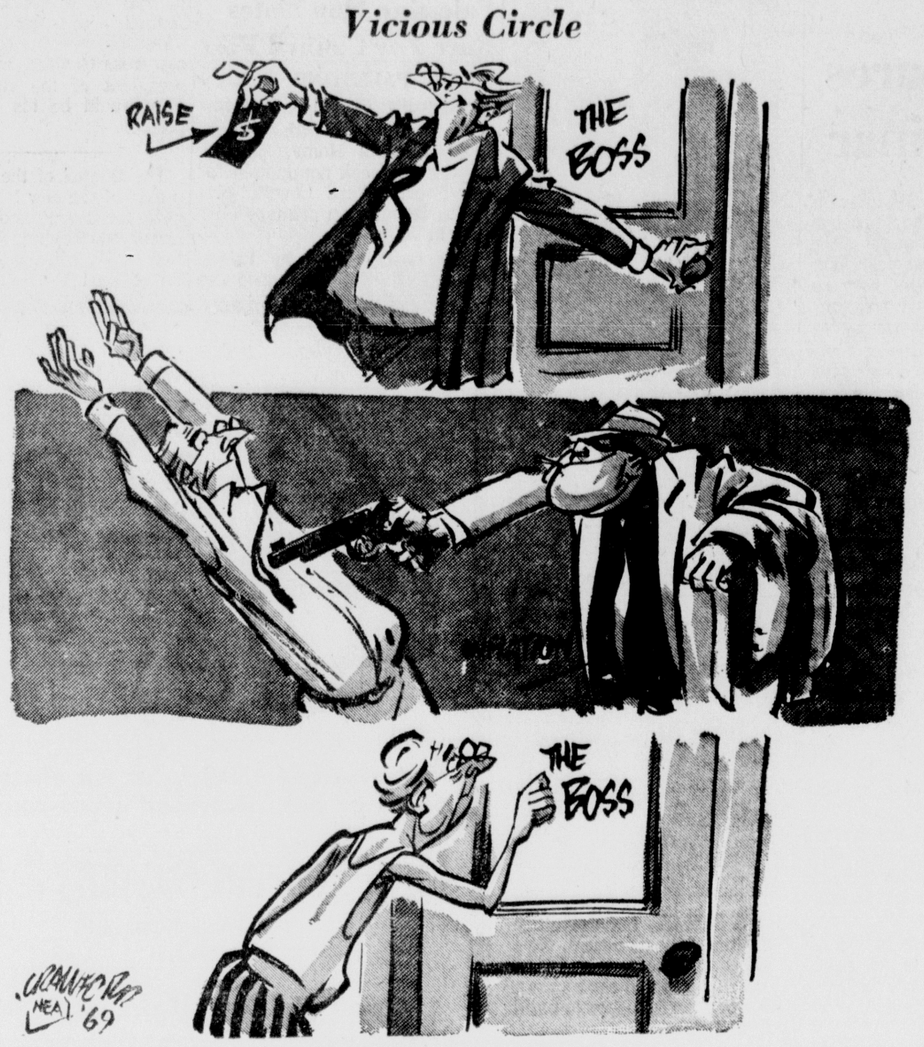

I was starting to choke up. "I don't want him to go," I cried.

"None of us do," a former ADA president sobbed.

"The whole part is that he'll never know how we felt about him."

"Yeh, and Nixon won't even have the class to tell him."

Vicious Circle

VICTOR RIESEL

Nixon Calls On Old Enemies

There were intellectuals in abundant numbers — any one of whom six months ago would have challenged you to a predawn duel on Central Park's sheep meadow at the mere insinuation that he was going to rub shoulders with chairmen of Mr. Nixon's 22 task forces.

Mr. Nixon and the men of his inner sanctums knew they were here. They came by invitation, not infiltration.

They made up a strange new world of thought, an economic, intellectual, philosophical and cultural "conglomerate." Rubbing shoulders were essayists, professional liberals, conservatives, bankers, academicians, hardliners, financiers, construction magnates, Wall Street lawyers, hawks and doves.

That's the way Dick Nixon wants it. That's the way he has had it for some weeks now.

"THE INTELLECTUALS who have been in and out of government and political parties," said one Nixon intimate, "are the best critics of what has happened. They are lively guides to what should be done. There's a climate of anxiety and hope, and this willingness to rub shoulders can only help the nation. They are a great mixture."

Typical is the task force on voluntary action, directed at "solving" the urban and suburban crises. In effect, its assignment, as handed to Richard Cornell of the Center for Independent Action (no initials, please), is to get the inner cities and the savants to solve matters by substituting energy for money, meaning self-help and private financing, and thus build "bridges to dignity."

Its hideaway last Friday was the Hotel Plaza, that umbilical link with Diamond Jim Brady's day, catty-cornered from the Hotel Pierre. This task force is indeed a conglomerate — running all the way from Al Cole, chairman of the Reader's Digest Executive Committee, to Richard Goodwin and Irving Kristol.

And to get these men to rub shoulders in behalf of Richard Nixon's leadership takes considerable doing. A more sweeping united front never has been welded.

It has been quite a route for the acidy gadfly Dick Goodwin — Harvard Law, Felix Frankfurter, John Kennedy, Bob Kennedy, Dean Rusk, Lyndon Johnson, Sen. McCarthy, a pass at Ted Kennedy and now on to a Nixon task force.

It was Dick Goodwin who whipped phrases into some of John Kennedy's best speeches. It was Goodwin who went to the Punta Del Este Latin American conference for Dean Rusk. It was Goodwin who linked Sen. Gene McCarthy to the new youth and gave the politically meandering poet a voice in the village of hippy and flower power.

IT EVEN IS STRANGE to see Goodwin sit with Irving Kristol, a young old Social Democrat who once edited the brilliant London monthly Encounter for the Congress For Cultural Freedom.

Mr. Kristol is a conservative liberal's comfort. He's as intellectual as any and knows his way through the labyrinthine old left of Max Eastman, The New Leader, and Commentary.

Dick Goodwin and Irvining Kristol have their prototypes on other task forces devoted to crime, pollution, civil rights, fiscal management, education, public welfare, health and government welfare.

These are men who have not pledged to kiss and not tell — or not denounce. They are not bound by any pledges of secrecy and some are saying that "little will come of this."

BUT IT IS A POLITICAL risk Richard Nixon took quite deliberately in his search for sparkling ideas, his demands for program evaluation, in his urgings upon his own command headquarters people for the redefining of the structure of government, programming and legislation.

"What we wanted, despite this high political risk," said one of those who gets up to the 39th floor, "was to get the idea process moving. So we called friends and non-friends, even antagonists. What we wanted and got is challenging questioning.

"This gives us innovation from a wide range of sources, and in each case expert sources."

It's a daring concept. Mr. Nixon does not intend to isolate himself, nor his White House, from it. He too is willing to rub shoulders. As someone said over at the Pierre last weekend, "this is a new kind of presidentry."

Actually its the eclectic application of an old theory: From each according to his ability, so long as he's willing to give for his country.

Timely Quotes

"Let us hope we can overcome the myth of omnipotence and learn that the proper use of science is not to conquer the world but to live in it."

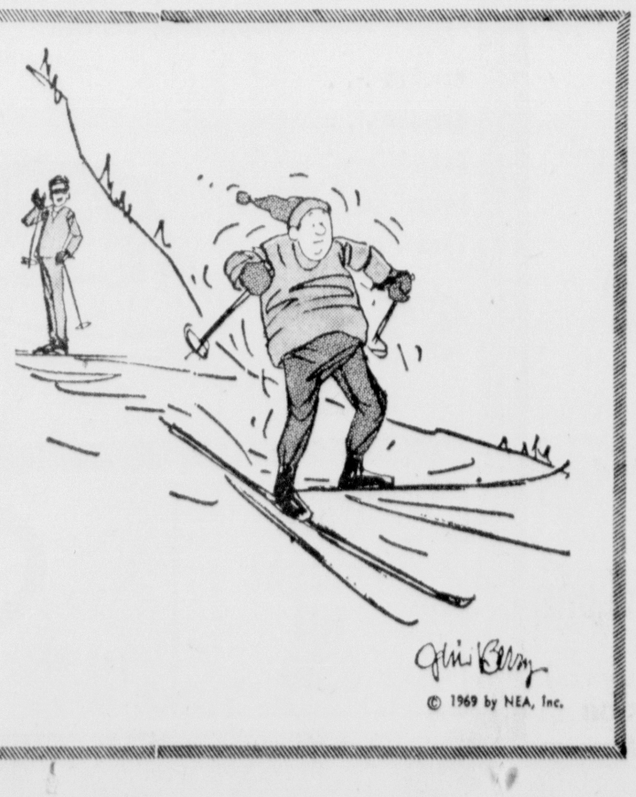

—Biologist Barry Commoner, Washington University, St. Louis.

"The best time to listen to a politician is when he's on a stump on a street corner in the rain late at night when he's exhausted. Then he doesn't lie."

—Historian Theodore H. White.

DAVID LAWRENCE

There's Change In The Air

A feeling of change" is in the air. It is, of course, stimulated by the prospective exit of the Johnson administration and preparations for the start of a new administration here next week.

The demand for change" has been emphasied by a substantial majority of the voters and is far more than a passing interst of the American people in the gala of an inaugural. For the fact is the people are aroused.

They want to see action taken soon. They do not want vague statements offering hope while providing no assurance of a solution of the many troubles afflicting the nation.

WHAT IS AT THE BOTTOM of America's difficulties today in government? There is no easy answer, but to one who has watched the course of history through many administrations, the prime fault seems to be epitomized in a single word, politics."

Too many decisions are made with an eye to votes of this or that group. Rather than a positive course, the temptation is to try something in the middle of the road."

Instead of dealing decisively and immediately with a plain challenge, the tendency is to apply what is called gradualism" — a theory that sooner or later things will get better anyway.

This historian who examines the record of the last decade will have to write that many crises were avoided" only to precipitate bigger ones later on. When a war of sizable proportions gave this country a lopsided economy, appeals for restraint" were substituted for laws imposing wage-and-price controls.

Labor vehemently opposed the latter and business wasn't too enthusiastic either. President Johnson, however, basically appeared to be afraid of losing the support which is mobilized politically by the labor unions.

The same thing occurred when a new minimum-wage law was enacted. The pressure didn't come from the workers in low-wage groups, most of whom are not even members of unions. The law was passed instead because of the support lined up among the large labor unions, which knew it would automiatically push up all wage scales above the minimum.

It didn't seem to matter that prices would be pushed up, too.

As for the Vietnam War, the policy of gradualism" was tried. It was opposed by the military. The delay not only gave the enemy time to get more arms and support from the Soviet Union and Red China but enabled the antiwar critics to gather a larger and larger following inside the United States.

From a political standpoint, the Democratic administration didn't make the gains it expected from gradualism" and the enemy got considerable comfort out of the rise of the antiwar sentiment throughout America.

Policies of dilly-dallying have done great harm also in the handling of the internal war" across this country. The crime wave has risen to unprecedented heights. Disorders are numerous.

Rebellion in the colleges has merely emphasized the lack of firmness on the part of those who have authority to punish misbehavior.

Much of this attitude of indifference may be related to the demoralization of the police forces in many parts of the land or it may have resulted from the loose way the courts have ignored the civil rights of law-abiding citizens while criminals and "demonstrators" have been given a free hand.

But officials must have courage. This means a willingness to forgo the imaginary popularity" which supposedly can be obtained by reluctance to use vigorously the powers of prosecution.

The eyes of the nation will be focused now on the new attorney general. For what the federal government does can materially influence the local governments, too.

MANY PROBLEMS — Vietnam, law and order, inflation and the rigid economic controls which alone can save the country from a deep depression — can be tackled with a resoluteness that the American people will be able quickly to perceive and support if it is manifested by the new administration.

The central idea is to seek not what seems good politically but what is good for the nation, even if for a time there are discomforts and some adversity.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hole of Clarkson concluded a three-week vacation at Ft. Myers, Fla.

Mrs. Louise Polk of Broadway left for a four-month vacation in Los Angeles, Spokane, Wash. and Moshler, Ore.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Fire destroyed the straw shed of the Wellsville China Co., with about 40 tons of straw being lost.

Homer E. Graham was elected chairman and Sidney C. Porter clerk during the annual congregational meeting of the Newell First Presbyterian Church.

TEN YEARS AGO — Stanley Smusz was installed as president of the Chester Polish Lodge.

Plans for the second annual ministrel in March by the Salineville Ruritan Club were announced by James Wadowick and J. Warren Bettis, co-directors.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Coat Makes Sleeping Bag

DEAR HELOISE: For enthusiatic, young backyard campers, the warmest and cheapest "sleeping bag" is Dad's old overcoat.

Heloise

Sew up the bottom and the front (to the lowest button). Then cut off the sleeves and sew the armholes shut. Your youngster will have a bag that will make him snug as a bug in a rug!

"CHEAPER SLEEPER".

Now Daddies, don't you get upset. You don't wear that old coat anymore now, do you? And I think this is the darlingest idea in ages!

Why not whip-stitch the bottom with a piece of Dad's old nylon fishing line, as that's good and strong and will go through the extra padding on that heavy coat.

Let's put them to use. After all, they can always be dry cleaned and the stitching can be ripped out if you really need the coat or the line for that special fishing or hunting trip, eh?

HELOISE.

-:-

P.S. Wasn't "Cheaper Sleeper" a great mom for writing that one in? Bless her always. A bucket of love and a big "X" to her from us all.

Surprise for you apartment dwellers:

Just got in on a secret which I must share with you all.

When you do your nice lovely handwash in a hard water area and have trouble, you might try this, as it worked for me after someone tipped me off. . . .

The hotel water has a water softener in it but some cold water in some apartment areas does not! I wonder how many apartments do just that?

The softener keeps the hot water heaters, etc. from expensive repair bills for the owner.

Now when I do a cold or lukewarm wash, I fill the basin from the hot water tap and let it sit until it's cool.

Tremendous results followed!

Great for washing hair, too.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: My mother threw away our old toaster cover and used a rain plastic bonnet for a cover.

It fit perfectly and since everyone usually has several extra rain bonnets lying around, one won't be missed.

MELISSA PHILLIPS.

DEAR HELOISE: There is the following sign in one of our grocery store windows.

"Old Tough Meat
Wilted Lettuce
Rotten Vegetables
Stale Bread"

And believe it or not, it's the most popular grocery in town, with the BEST selection!

READER.

DEAR HELOISE: You know how expensive those perfumed candles are?

Well, I discovered you can use perfumed oil to scent paraffin. Put the perfumed oil in after all the paraffin has melted and just ready to pour.

Wonderful idea to save money.

PEGGY ELLINGSON.

DEAR HELOISE: When roasting a whole chicken or a turkey over charcoal on the rotiserie, I peel and quarter an onion and an apple, and put them in the cavity.

As the chicken or turkey rolls around, the onion and apple rolls, too. This gives added flavor and keeps the meat moist.

SWANEE.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a driver-salesman for a chain of dry - cleaning establishments.

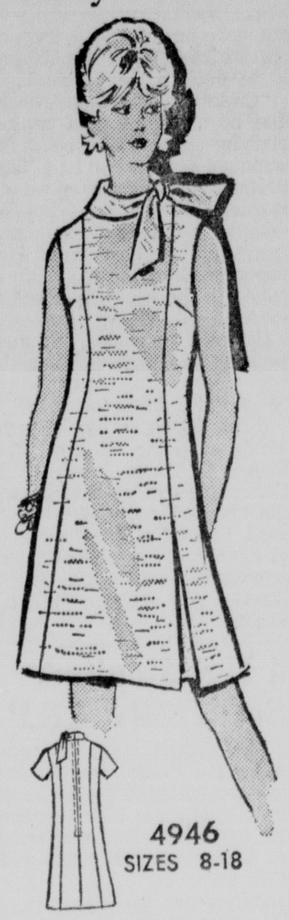

I would like to state to all housewives that there is no such thing as a permanent pleat where dry-cleaning is concerned.

However, before a garment is placed in the dry-cleaning fluid, the pleat may be considered permanent. But, after it has been saturated with the fluid, the pleats lose their permanency.

The cleaners have to re-set the pleats, and that is why they have to charge "so much per pleat"!

JOSEPH COONS, toastmaster, introduced Harwood, a former newspaper reporter and radio station newscaster who now is with the public relations department of the bank.

Harwood spoke on "Banking's Role in a Cashless Society," tracing the history of trade from bartering through currency and the current trend toward checks and credit cards.

He said the credit card system provides a convenient and efficient exchange system for consumers, and commended the First National Bank and the Potters Bank and Trust Co. for plans to start local credit card service in February.

He said increasing card use indicates the next development will be a checkless, cashless society in which all sales and transactions would be made by a universal credit card, involving assigned numbers for every individual and firm and a system of computers.

Among the problems to be overcome would be the assignment of the numbers, guarding against misuse of the cards and determining the ownership and management of the system, he said.

The identification numbers could be Social Security numbers, Harwood said, and video display of photographs, fingerprints or voice prints might provide proper identification to prevent misuse of cards. Whether banks, special private firms or the government would own or operate the system would have to be decided, he declared.

"Customer acceptance would also be vital," he went on, explaining there might be a resentment of a seeming "Big Brother" operation of money exchange and checkups. But the demand for efficient consumer credit and the huge amount of paper work connected with it points to the need for a better system.

Harwood concluded, "It may be within a decade or so that a boy will ask his grandfather, 'What did a dollar look like?' "

Richard Darrah, Jaycee president, gave the welcome, and Sidney C. Porter, Chamber of Commerce vice president, gave the "bosses" reply. The Rev. Paul Randell of the Emmanuel United Presbyterian Church offered the invocation. John Starkey was chairman of the event.

Judge Faces Dilemma In Sirhan Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The judge in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial faces a legal dilemma over the seating of a prospective juror who opposes the death penalty under any circumstances.

The prosecution is challenging the seating of Alvina Alvidrez, who told the court Wednesday she could judge the guilt or innocence of Sirhan—the 24-year-old Jordanian charged with slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—but could not return a death penalty verdict "for any crime under any circumstances."

Recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions have reversed murder convictions because persons opposed to the death penalty were excluded from the jury.

Judge Herbert W. Walker is expected to rule on the matter today. If he does rule that Mrs. Alvidrez could be a prospective juror, the prosecution could force her removal later under one of its its peremptory challenges.

Mrs. Alvidrez' testimony and the legal fireworks that followed highlighted the sixth day of the trial, which also included a good-natured outburst from Sirhan.

Three male prospective jurors were tentatively seated Wednesday joining the four women chosen earlier.

Mrs. Alvidrez, an employe of a hardware firm, was the first of 21 prospective jurors to say she had conscientious objections to the death penalty.

Chief defense counsel Grant B. Cooper argued that "we have a right to this juror (Mrs. Alvidrez) on the question of guilt or innocence."

Judge Walker rejected two prosecution challenges to the woman's seating but gave Deputy Prosecutor David N. Fitts permission to argue the seating again today.

Sirhan, 24, appeared in unusually good spirits Wednesday upon entering the court. He walked briskly to the counsel table, blowing smoke from a just-finished cigarette.

Lisbon Chamber To Elect Three

LISBON —The Lisbon Area Chamber of Commerce will elect three directors during the annual dinner meeting at 6:30 tonight in St. George Parish hall.

After the Chamber meeting, Councilman William Robinson, chairman of the Lisbon Planning Commission, will preside for a meeting of merchants from the downtown business district.

Phases of Lisbon's comprehensive plan being prepared by Carroll Hill & Associates will be discussed by Lee Renaud of Pittsburgh, a member of the engineering firm.

Judge Faces Dilemma In Sirhan Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The judge in the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial faces a legal dilemma over the seating of a prospective juror who opposes the death penalty under any circumstances.

The prosecution is challenging the seating of Alvina Alvidrez, who told the court Wednesday she could judge the guilt or innocence of Sirhan—the 24-year-old Jordanian charged with slaying Sen. Robert F. Kennedy—but could not return a death penalty verdict "for any crime under any circumstances."

Recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions have reversed murder convictions because persons opposed to the death penalty were excluded from the jury.

Judge Herbert W. Walker is expected to rule on the matter today. If he does rule that Mrs. Alvidrez could be a prospective juror, the prosecution could force her removal later under one of its its peremptory challenges.

Mrs. Alvidrez' testimony and the legal fireworks that followed highlighted the sixth day of the trial, which also included a good-natured outburst from Sirhan.

Three male prospective jurors were tentatively seated Wednesday joining the four women chosen earlier.

Mrs. Alvidrez, an employe of a hardware firm, was the first of 21 prospective jurors to say she had conscientious objections to the death penalty.

Chief defense counsel Grant B. Cooper argued that "we have a right to this juror (Mrs. Alvidrez) on the question of guilt or innocence."

Judge Walker rejected two prosecution challenges to the woman's seating but gave Deputy Prosecutor David N. Fitts permission to argue the seating again today.

Sirhan, 24, appeared in unusually good spirits Wednesday upon entering the court. He walked briskly to the counsel table, blowing smoke from a just-finished cigarette.

Cong Catch U.S. Marines In Ambush On Peninsula

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong soldiers attempting to break out of an allied cordon on Batangan Peninsula caught U. S. Marines in an ambush, military spokesmen reported today.

Two Americans were killed and five wounded, the spokesmen said. Enemy casualties in the ambush Wednesday were not known.

With military activity picking up, four more Americans were killed and 16 wounded in the Da Nang-Quang Ngai City sector. U. S. forces killed 36 enemy soldiers. Two more helicopters were shot down, one an observation craft supporting troops near Quang Ngai City. All three crewmen were killed. The losses raised to 983 the number of American helicopters downed by enemy gunners.

Five U. S. Navy men were killed and five wounded Thursday when their harbor boat hit a mine in the Cua Viet River south of the demilitarized zone's eastern flank, the Navy announced.

In a 40-minute fight near An Khe, eight North Vietnamese soldiers and three U. S. paratroopers of the 173rd Airborne Brigade were killed and 11 paratroopers wounded. The paratroopers were riding armored personnel carriers on an offensive sweep.

The rising scale of military operations was reflected in the U. S. Command weekly casualty report: 151 U. S. battle dead in the week ending Jan. 11, compared with 101 in the previous week. The U.S. death toll in the war rose to 30,795, approaching the Korean War high mark of 33,629.

The number of U. S. wounded in the war rose to 194,234, with 548 wounded and hospitalized and 850 wounded but returned to duty last week. Another 1,251 Americans are listed missing, captured or interned.

South Vietnamese troop losses last week were 183 dead and 822 wounded as compared to 150 killed and 602 wounded a week earlier.

The U.S. Command figures put total enemy losses since the war began at 434,048, with 2,102 killed last week compared to 2,056 the previous week.

In another wave of activity, the enemy during the night shelled two provincial capitals, a government training center, a military subsector and two allied battlefields. Six Americans were wounded when ten 100-pound rockets slammed into the Pleiku City airfield, destroying two gasoline storage tanks.

The biggest current operation is the cordon being closed around the Batangan Peninsula by an 8,200-man allied force trying to wrest control of the area from the Viet Cong, who use it as a supply point.

Beatles Fear Being Broke In 6 Months

LONDON (AP)—John Lennon said in an interview published today that he and his fellow Beatles will be broke in six months if their organization—Apple—goes on losing money at the present rate.

Lennon's statement immediately brought a denial that the company was in deep financial trouble but an admission that its management is undergoing change.

The interview with Lennon was published by a pop music weekly, Disc and Music Echo. It it the 28-year-old Beatle was quoted as saying:

"We haven't got half the money people think we have. It's been pie-in-the-sky from the start. Apple's losing money every week because it needs close running by a big businessman.

"It doesn't need to make vast profits but if it carries on like this all of us will be broke in the next six months."

The $2.4 million company was set up with interest covering music publishing, television, shops, movies and electronics.

Its headquarters in London's Savile Row—bought for $1.2 million a year ago—has a staff of 30 to 40 persons.

"Apple needs a new broom and a lot of people there will have to go," Lennon said.

An official of the company commented: "Let the quote rest."

But later Apple issued a statement saying managerial changes were being made.

"We have our businessman and we are doing our streamlining," the statement said. "Our records are nits. Our misses are magnified. Our future is magnificent."

Hancock Jurors Return 25 Bills

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Hancock County Grand Jury, following a day and a half of testimony, returned 19 true bills and 6 others. Of the 19 true bills, 15 were for felonies.

Two of the felonies and one of the misdemeanors concern an alleged conspiracy last Sept. 14 involving eight Weirton residents in which three persons were allegedly assaulted and five business establishments damaged.

—:—

INDICTED on two counts of conspiracy were Charles E. Taylor, 18, Curtis Lee Young, 24, John Galner, 21, George Sims, 23, Louis Jones, 19, and three juveniles, all of Weirton.

The alleged assault was made on three other Weirton residents — Paul Zurof, James Tokash and Stanley Chetock. The damaged businesses were listed as the Columbia Bar, Henry's Confectionary, the P. & W. Bus Co., People's Restaurant and Ferguson's Tire Service.

The action reportedly followed the traffic death of Riley Jennings Sr., 44, of Weirton on Sept. 14.

The misdemeanor charges that the eight had prior to the above alleged instances planned to take part in the assaults and vandalisms.

Others indicted for felonies were Curt D. Swain Jr. of New Cumberland, theft of $1,000 property of Blaine O. Barnhart on Oct. 9, 1968.

Burlen H. Connolly, 30, of New Cumberland for the armed robbery of Russell Davis on Nov. 22, 1968, at the Davis IGA Store in Chester, in which $5,173.16 was taken.

Gary Kekenak, 21, of Weirton for the alleged breaking and entering the Weir Senior High School on Sept. 13 in which a $180 typewriter was stolen.

Charles J. Dulick and Kenneth Morris, both of Aliquippa, for the alleged breaking of Chaney's Handy Food of Chester on Sept. 22, 1968.

Frank Brown, 40, of Keyser, W. Va., for the alleged theft of an auto, the property of Edward S. Dillon, on Aug. 12, 1968. Brown also is being sought by Maryland authorities for questioning in the death of Inez Bambling, 23, of Chester whose body was discovered near Oakland, Md. on Sept. 16. Maryland authorities alleged Brown was the last person to see the Chester woman alive.

Michael Kevith, formerly of Weirton, for the theft of weapons valued at $150 from the home of his father on Swearingen Hill Sept. 21, 1968. He was reported the youth now is in the Marine Corps.

Charles A. Gorby and Kenneth W. Geer each on a count of alleged auto theft, the property of T. C. Stiteler, Oct. 18, 1968.

Michael N. Fellows of Steubenville for an alleged theft of a vehicle from Baron Chevrolet of Weirton Sept. 24, 1968. Fellows just recently was indicted by the Jefferson County Grand Jury for involuntary manslaughter in the death of Marine Pfc. Carl Goad, 17, also of Steubenville, Dec. 3.

Also indicted on three counts of breaking and entering in the theft of $1,300 band equipment from New Cumberland Junior High School on Nov. 7 and Nov. 17 were two 17-year-old juveniles.

—:—

INDICTED for misdemeanors were:

Lester S. Gajtka, 19, of Weirton for the alleged attempted breaking and entering the Steeler Bar of Weirton on Dec. 2, 1968.

Donald L. Wilson, 18, and David Wooley, 19, of East Liverpool, for the alleged contributing to the delinquency of a minor Nov. 24, 1968. It is alleged the two youths induced a 15-year-old Chester school girl to accompany them for a five-day period.

William L. Brandon, 55, of Weirton on a charge of negligent homicide in the traffic death of Riley Jennings Sr., 44, of Weirton Sept. 14.

Not true bills, all misdemeanors, were returned against the following: Jerry J. Manfred of Steubenville, manager of the Terrace Lanes Bowling Alleys on Route 30 near Chester, two counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors by allowing persons under the age of 18 to work in an establishment holding a retail beer license which allegedly sold illegal whisky.

Angela DiDenedetto, manager of the R. & A. Lounge in Weirton, one count of contributing to the delinquency of minors by allowing youths under the age of 18 to loiter in a licensed retail beer establishment.

Brady R. Hackney, 27, of Wheeling, who was arrested for the alleged attempted break-in of the First Building & Loan Association in Weirton Nov. 6, 1968.

Dale E. McCourtney, 21, of Weirton, for the alleged brandishing of a firearm on Aug. 3, 1968.

Larry D. Bailey of New Cumberland, for the alleged contributing to the delinquency of a minor by inducing him to shoplift.

The grand jurors at the close of their deliberations also issued a statement regarding the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors in the county.

They said they felt city, county and state law enforcement agencies have done a good job, "but are not keeping a proper surveillance on this problem, and thus are not getting the proper evidence to the Grand Jury for action."

Soviet

cabin appeared to be quite roomy.

Tass said the maneuver proved the feasibility of exchanging crews on long-term operations or the rescue of spacemen in emergency situations.

In a jubilantly tense voice a Moscow Radio announcer said the linkup "guarantees the fulfilment of a great complex of experiments."

Soviet space officials, following their usual custom of not announcing space operations until they are accomplished, have not said what the next move for the orbiting cosmonauts may be.

Since the start of the Soyuz 4 flight Tuesday there have been reports in Moscow that a transfer of crew from one spaceship to the other will be attempted. It was not clear whether such a maneuver would involve a space walk or whether there was some means of joining the two ships internally.

There also was no confirmation in Moscow that the Soviet Union might have launched a third spaceship this morning. The Bochum observatory in West Germany reported intercepting radio signals indicating a new launching.

Cosomonaut Vladimir Shatalov, hurled into space two days ago aboard Soyuz 4, took over manual controls to guide his ship into Soyuz 5 after ground controls had brought them close together in orbit, Tass said. Soyuz 5, with three men aboard, was launched Wednesday.

The two ships docked over the territory of the Soviet Union, Tass said, after making an approach to within 100 yards, controlled by radio signals from the ground.

"After the docking, there was a mutual mechanical coupling of the ships," Tass went on, "and they were rigidly tightened up and their electrical circuits were connected."

The docking occurred at 3:20 a.m. EST, and was announced about an hour later.

"The flight of the experimental station continues," Radio Moscow said. "All cosmonauts are feeling excellent."

Moscow television, continuing its close coverage of the Soyuz mission, showed a delayed videotape broadcast of the approach and docking. Soyuz 5 could be seen sloiwly getting closer to the two cameras mounted outside Soyuz 4.

'Congratulations to everybody," a voice from the ground said as the two ships locked together.

One of the ships then said to the other: "We've been hunting for you for a long time."

Soyuz 5, as seen on the television screen, resembled a mechanical bird. Its extended solar energy collectors looked like wings.

Vladimir Shatalov, alone in Soyuz 4 which went into orbit Tuesday, used manual controls to search out and couple with Soyuz 5, which was launched 24 hours later.

Tass said the linked-up complex now provides "comfortable working and resting conditions." The two ships are connected by telephone circuit.

After the dockng, Soyuz 5 commander Boris Volynov maneuvered the entire complex manually "for further fulfillment of the program," Tass said.

The Soyuz mission thus achieved the world's first docking of two manned spaceships. The U. S. Gemini program achieved linkups with a manned and an unmanned ship.

It also was the first time the Soviet Union had achieved manual docking something the United States has already done. The two previous Soviet dockings were automatic, by unmanned spaceships.

Tass made no mention of the roles played by Alexei Yeliseyev and Yevgeny Khrunov, the other cosmonauts aboard Soyuz 5.

Shatalov used manual controls during his 32nd revolution to alter his orbit, giving it a more oblong shape. It was his second manual change or orbit, he first having come during his fourth orbit Tuesday.

Soyuz 5 altered its orbit Wednesday to dimensions almost exactly like those of its sister ship.

riman, chief of the U.S. delegation, does not plan to remain in Paris, despite the agreement.

The U.S. delegation spokesman, William J. Jorden, said Harriman still plans to leave on schedule about 1 p.m. Sunday.

Jorden said there remain a number of procedural matters still to be taken up and that thus the deputy chiefs of delegation will be carrying the ball. He added that he hoped the conference soon could get down to the business of discussing the terms for peace in Vietnam.

There is agreement already on the languages. English and Vietnamese will be official and French will be a working language.

When the delegates gather in the international conference center, they will see one large round table and two small rectangular tables on opposite sides, each about 18 inches from the big table. The seating is up to the delegations.

The South Vietnamese and the Americans declined to say just who proposed the final solution.

Hancock Jurors Return 25 Bills

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Hancock County Grand Jury, following a day and a half of testimony, returned 19 true bills and 6 others. Of the 19 true bills, 15 were for felonies.

Two of the felonies and one of the misdemeanors concern an alleged conspiracy last Sept. 14 involving eight Weirton residents in which three persons were allegedly assaulted and five business establishments damaged.

—:—

INDICTED on two counts of conspiracy were Charles E. Taylor, 18, Curtis Lee Young, 24, John Galner, 21, George Sims, 23, Louis Jones, 19, and three juveniles, all of Weirton.

The alleged assault was made on three other Weirton residents — Paul Zurof, James Tokash and Stanley Chetock. The damaged businesses were listed as the Columbia Bar, Henry's Confectionary, the P. & W. Bus Co., People's Restaurant and Ferguson's Tire Service.

The action reportedly followed the traffic death of Riley Jennings Sr., 44, of Weirton on Sept. 14.

The misdemeanor charges that the eight had prior to the above alleged instances planned to take part in the assaults and vandalisms.

Others indicted for felonies were Curt D. Swain Jr. of New Cumberland, theft of $1,000 property of Blaine O. Barnhart on Oct. 9, 1968.

Burlen H. Connolly, 30, of New Cumberland for the armed robbery of Russell Davis on Nov. 22, 1968, at the Davis IGA Store in Chester, in which $5,173.16 was taken.

Gary Kekenak, 21, of Weirton for the alleged breaking and entering the Weir Senior High School on Sept. 13 in which a $180 typewriter was stolen.

Charles J. Dulick and Kenneth Morris, both of Aliquippa, for the alleged breaking of Chaney's Handy Food of Chester on Sept. 22, 1968.

Frank Brown, 40, of Keyser, W. Va., for the alleged theft of an auto, the property of Edward S. Dillon, on Aug. 12, 1968. Brown also is being sought by Maryland authorities for questioning in the death of Inez Bambling, 23, of Chester whose body was discovered near Oakland, Md. on Sept. 16. Maryland authorities alleged Brown was the last person to see the Chester woman alive.

Michael Kevith, formerly of Weirton, for the theft of weapons valued at $150 from the home of his father on Swearingen Hill Sept. 21, 1968. He was reported the youth now is in the Marine Corps.

Charles A. Gorby and Kenneth W. Geer each on a count of alleged auto theft, the property of T. C. Stiteler, Oct. 18, 1968.

Michael N. Fellows of Steubenville for an alleged theft of a vehicle from Baron Chevrolet of Weirton Sept. 24, 1968. Fellows just recently was indicted by the Jefferson County Grand Jury for involuntary manslaughter in the death of Marine Pfc. Carl Goad, 17, also of Steubenville, Dec. 3.

Also indicted on three counts of breaking and entering in the theft of $1,300 band equipment from New Cumberland Junior High School on Nov. 7 and Nov. 17 were two 17-year-old juveniles.

—:—

INDICTED for misdemeanors were:

Lester S. Gajtka, 19, of Weirton for the alleged attempted breaking and entering the Steeler Bar of Weirton on Dec. 2, 1968.

Donald L. Wilson, 18, and David Wooley, 19, of East Liverpool, for the alleged contributing to the delinquency of a minor Nov. 24, 1968. It is alleged the two youths induced a 15-year-old Chester school girl to accompany them for a five-day period.

William L. Brandon, 55, of Weirton on a charge of negligent homicide in the traffic death of Riley Jennings Sr., 44, of Weirton Sept. 14.

Not true bills, all misdemeanors, were returned against the following: Jerry J. Manfred of Steubenville, manager of the Terrace Lanes Bowling Alleys on Route 30 near Chester, two counts of contributing to the delinquency of minors by allowing persons under the age of 18 to work in an establishment holding a retail beer license which allegedly sold illegal whisky.

Angela DiDenedetto, manager of the R. & A. Lounge in Weirton, one count of contributing to the delinquency of minors by allowing youths under the age of 18 to loiter in a licensed retail beer establishment.

Brady R. Hackney, 27, of Wheeling, who was arrested for the alleged attempted break-in of the First Building & Loan Association in Weirton Nov. 6, 1968.

Dale E. McCourtney, 21, of Weirton, for the alleged brandishing of a firearm on Aug. 3, 1968.

Larry D. Bailey of New Cumberland, for the alleged contributing to the delinquency of a minor by inducing him to shoplift.

The grand jurors at the close of their deliberations also issued a statement regarding the sale of alcoholic beverages to minors in the county.

They said they felt city, county and state law enforcement agencies have done a good job, "but are not keeping a proper surveillance on this problem, and thus are not getting the proper evidence to the Grand Jury for action."

Soviet

cabin appeared to be quite roomy.

Tass said the maneuver proved the feasibility of exchanging crews on long-term operations or the rescue of spacemen in emergency situations.

In a jubilantly tense voice a Moscow Radio announcer said the linkup "guarantees the fulfilment of a great complex of experiments."

Soviet space officials, following their usual custom of not announcing space operations until they are accomplished, have not said what the next move for the orbiting cosmonauts may be.

Since the start of the Soyuz 4 flight Tuesday there have been reports in Moscow that a transfer of crew from one spaceship to the other will be attempted. It was not clear whether such a maneuver would involve a space walk or whether there was some means of joining the two ships internally.

There also was no confirmation in Moscow that the Soviet Union might have launched a third spaceship this morning. The Bochum observatory in West Germany reported intercepting radio signals indicating a new launching.

Cosomonaut Vladimir Shatalov, hurled into space two days ago aboard Soyuz 4, took over manual controls to guide his ship into Soyuz 5 after ground controls had brought them close together in orbit, Tass said. Soyuz 5, with three men aboard, was launched Wednesday.

The two ships docked over the territory of the Soviet Union, Tass said, after making an approach to within 100 yards, controlled by radio signals from the ground.

"After the docking, there was a mutual mechanical coupling of the ships," Tass went on, "and they were rigidly tightened up and their electrical circuits were connected."

The docking occurred at 3:20 a.m. EST, and was announced about an hour later.

"The flight of the experimental station continues," Radio Moscow said. "All cosmonauts are feeling excellent."

Moscow television, continuing its close coverage of the Soyuz mission, showed a delayed videotape broadcast of the approach and docking. Soyuz 5 could be seen sloiwly getting closer to the two cameras mounted outside Soyuz 4.

'Congratulations to everybody," a voice from the ground said as the two ships locked together.

One of the ships then said to the other: "We've been hunting for you for a long time."

Soyuz 5, as seen on the television screen, resembled a mechanical bird. Its extended solar energy collectors looked like wings.

Vladimir Shatalov, alone in Soyuz 4 which went into orbit Tuesday, used manual controls to search out and couple with Soyuz 5, which was launched 24 hours later.

Tass said the linked-up complex now provides "comfortable working and resting conditions." The two ships are connected by telephone circuit.

After the dockng, Soyuz 5 commander Boris Volynov maneuvered the entire complex manually "for further fulfillment of the program," Tass said.

The Soyuz mission thus achieved the world's first docking of two manned spaceships. The U. S. Gemini program achieved linkups with a manned and an unmanned ship.

It also was the first time the Soviet Union had achieved manual docking something the United States has already done. The two previous Soviet dockings were automatic, by unmanned spaceships.

Tass made no mention of the roles played by Alexei Yeliseyev and Yevgeny Khrunov, the other cosmonauts aboard Soyuz 5.

Shatalov used manual controls during his 32nd revolution to alter his orbit, giving it a more oblong shape. It was his second manual change or orbit, he first having come during his fourth orbit Tuesday.

Soyuz 5 altered its orbit Wednesday to dimensions almost exactly like those of its sister ship.

riman, chief of the U.S. delegation, does not plan to remain in Paris, despite the agreement.

The U.S. delegation spokesman, William J. Jorden, said Harriman still plans to leave on schedule about 1 p.m. Sunday.

Jorden said there remain a number of procedural matters still to be taken up and that thus the deputy chiefs of delegation will be carrying the ball. He added that he hoped the conference soon could get down to the business of discussing the terms for peace in Vietnam.

There is agreement already on the languages, English and Vietnamese will be official and French will be a working language.

When the delegates gather in the international conference center, they will see one large round table and two small rectangular tables on opposite sides, each about 18 inches from the big table. The seating is up to the delegations.

The South Vietnamese and the Americans declined to say just who proposed the final solution.

Formal Approval Received For Program Under Title I

Formal approval of the Life Adjustment Curriculum under the Title 1 program has been received, Supt. Paul Blair of the East Liverpool School District announced Tuesday.

The project concerns an educational program paid for by federal funds and provides special classes for students ranging from 9 to 16 years enrolled in the 4th to 9th grades.

Reading classes are held on Tuesday night. Those who attend then become eligible for classes on Saturday morning, which include art, music, physical education, industrial arts and home economics.

Funds totaling $41,806 were approved. This amount, along with an additional $14,155 balance, will be used for the classes throughout the school year and also will provide a six-week summer program.

Tony LaNeve, federal coordinator, said the summer program probably will be for remedial reading and remedial arithmetic, although final plans have not been drawn.

The money covers expenses such as books, films, manuals, programmed materials, projectors and other learning aids and instructional costs.

Many materials were purchased when the program was operated in 1966-67 and these do not need to be duplicated, but additional materials for some of the classes were purchased.

LaNeve said approximately 300 students are enrolled.

Bill Proposes 4 Holidays To Fall On Monday

COLUMBUS (AP) — Ohions can look hopefully to four legal holidays on Monday instead of an exact date as now celebrated.

A bill was introduced in the Ohio House to commemorate the Monday holidays. The proposal would conform with federal legislation passed at the last session of Congress.

The four holidays, which would be changed to Mondays to provide longer weekends, are:

Washington's birthday, third Monday in February.

Memorial Day, last Monday in May.

Columbus Day, second Monday in October.

Veterans Day, fourth Monday in October.

The only holiday that now falls exclusively on Monday is Labor Day, commemorated on the first Monday in September.

Fire Levels Building At Ohio School

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) —Fire demolished the student union building on the trouble-plagued campus of Wilberforce University early today, causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

Two security guards spotted flames in the print shop and by the time firemen arrived, the blaze had spread from one end of the brick building to the other.

Eddie Hawkins, fire chief of Xenia Township North, said he had asked for an investigation by the state fire marshal's office but added that he had nothing definite to indicate arson.

Students have been boycotting classes at the unversity for several days and demonstrated briefly Wednesday in front of the presdent's office. Reportedly, they have been protesting dormitory and the dismissal of 75 students for low academc standing.

Hawkins said the student union building might have been saved "if more water had been available."

The chief explained that only one hose could be connected to a hydrant near the building.

"We found another hydrant nearby but it had the wrong type of fittings," Hawkins added.

Pumpers were brought in by firemen from surrounding areas to help combat the fire which Hawkins surmised started in the print shop.

The one-story structure also contained a post office, a publication office, a snack bar and the music department for the university.

Estimates of the loss were made by Lorrie Alexander, dean of men.

Earlier, the university announced it was negotiating with the demonstrators in an attempt to restore peace to the campus.

"We have no statement to make at this time," said President Rembert Stokes.

Student leaders also declined comment.

Open casting will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the theater. Parts for four females and two males will be filled, Graham said.

Mary Clement was named to head a play reviewing committee. Others selected were Edna Kiernan, Sue Smith, Althea Wilson and Tom Henthorn.

Nixon Works With 2 Aides On Address

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla. (AP) — President-elect Nixon worked and relaxed in privacy and public silence today, as he has since coming to his Florida hideway two days ago.

Press aide Bruce Whelihan said Nixon was at work on his inaugural address, with the assistance of two newly arrived staff members, Miss Rose Mary Woods, his personal secretary, and Raymond K. Price, a special assistant and speechwriter, arrived Wednesday.

Nixon had no comment on President Johnson's budget, sent to Congress Wednesday, and Welihan said there would be none. The President-elect and the man he will succeed Monday talked on the telephine for about 40 minutes Tuesday night. Johnson placed the call to Nixon. The substance of their conversation was not disclosed.

Nixon is expected to remain in Key Biscayne until late Friday, spend a day in New York, then head for Washington on Sunday.

Fire Levels Building At Ohio School

WILBERFORCE, Ohio (AP) —Fire demolished the student union building on the trouble-plagued campus of Wilberforce University early today, causing an estimated $100,000 damage.

Two security guards spotted flames in the print shop and by the time firemen arrived, the blaze had spread from one end of the brick building to the other.

Eddie Hawkins, fire chief of Xenia Township North, said he had asked for an investigation by the state fire marshal's office but added that he had nothing definite to indicate arson.

Students have been boycotting classes at the unversity for several days and demonstrated briefly Wednesday in front of the presdent's office. Reportedly, they have been protesting dormitory and the dismissal of 75 students for low academc standing.

Hawkins said the student union building might have been saved "if more water had been available."

The chief explained that only one hose could be connected to a hydrant near the building.

"We found another hydrant nearby but it had the wrong type of fittings," Hawkins added.

Pumpers were brought in by firemen from surrounding areas to help combat the fire which Hawkins surmised started in the print shop.

The one-story structure also contained a post office, a publication office, a snack bar and the music department for the university.

Estimates of the loss were made by Lorrie Alexander, dean of men.

Earlier, the university announced it was negotiating with the demonstrators in an attempt to restore peace to the campus.

"We have no statement to make at this time," said President Rembert Stokes.

Student leaders also declined comment.

Playrites Select Their Next Play

A three-act comedy, "Tunnel of Love" by Peter DeVries, was selected for production when the Ceramic Playrites met Tuesday night in the Liberty Art Theater in Wellsville.

It will be directed by James Graham. It is the story of a couple who have been married five years. Unable to have children of their own, they decide to adopt a baby. The fun begins when the wife is convinced her husband and the woman from the agency are having an affair.

Open casting will be held Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in the theater. Parts for four females and two males will be filled, Graham said.

Mary Clement was named to head a play reviewing committee. Others selected were Edna Kiernan, Sue Smith, Althea Wilson and Tom Henthorn.

Anyone interested in joining the group or trying out for the upcoming play should plan to attend, Bill Arvin, president, said.

ANN LANDERS

Reading Problem Aired

By Ann Landers

Dear Ann Landers: Our middle son, age 10, is an unhappy child. This boy always has done poorly in school and we were at a loss to understand why. The teachers complain that he daydreams in class, doesn't pay attention, and misses at least half of what is going on. His grades show it.

Last week it came to my attention that the boy cannot read. I was shocked. How he managed to fool everyone is beyond me. His English teacher suggested that he might have dyslexia, which she described as a disorder of the brain that can be corrected.

Do you know anything about this? Does this mean my child is retarded? Can you help me? — READER.

Dear Reader: Children who have dyslexia are not retarded. In fact, they have normal or above-average intelligence.

No one is certain what causes this lag in visual and auditory development, but the problem often is discovered because the child has trouble reading. The experts agree dyslexia tends to run in families and could be triggered by a difficult birth or a psychological problem early in life.

I suggest you write to the Executive Director, The Secretary's (H.E.W.) National Advisory Committee on Dyslexia & Related Reading Disorders, Room 8A34C, N.I.H. Building 31, Bethesda, Md. 20014. I recommend this organization with complete confidence because I know something about it.

Groovy Sponger

Dear Ann: I've been dating this fellow for almost a year. He's really groovy and I dig him the most, so please don't tell me to cut the connection. I couldn't do it.

The only thing wrong with Jake is he's a little bit cheap. Whenever we go with another couple, he manages to be away from the table when the check comes, or he's so slow to find his pocket the other guy gets it.

Lately we've been doubling with my best friend a lot. Yesterday she told me her steady refused to double with us any more because Jake is such a sponge. I'm so embarrassed I could take the gas pipe. How do I tell him? — BOISE BLUES.

-:-

Dear Boise: In plain English, and at once, unless he understands another language better.

Gambling Wreck

Dear Ann: We're up to our necks in debt. Bruce is a good person but he loves to gamble and he lies to me constantly. He'll bet on whether or not Thanksgiving falls on a Thursday.

Bruce swears he paid the rent and the utility bills and then I get three dunning letters and somebody shows up in person. Last month the power company turned off the gas and electricity.

Twice last year Bruce went to loan companies to keep from getting his wages garnisheed. My father finally lent us $600 because we were about to lose our car and furniture.

Gambling is as bad a sickness as alcoholism. Please, Ann, tell me what to do. I'm ready to pack and clear out. — NO DOOR.

-:-

Dear No: Have you ever heard of Gamblers Anonymous? This organization is patterned after A.A. and has helped a great many people. The National Headquarters address is: P.O. Box 7173, Los Angeles, Calif., or 2847 ½ Pico Blvd Los Angeles, Calif. Write for literature and good luck to you, honey.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A compilation of stories appearing on the sports pages of The Review in 1968 shows that while the coverage was far-ranging, Ohio stories predominated.

It also points up the fact that New York is the communications center of the country, with better than 10 per cent of all wire stories originating from there.

There were 6,335 stories, or an average of some 20 a day, appearing on the sports pages during 1968.

Local stories accounted for 2,532 of these, while 3,803 were supplied by the Associated Press or Newspaper Enterprise Association.

EL Away Friday, Home Saturday

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters take on two tough basketball foes this weekend, traveling to Barberton Friday night and hosting Steubenville Central Saturday night.

The game at Barberton is for the Big 8 lead. The Potters are leading the league with a 2-0 mark, while Barberton is next at 2-1. The Central game could have a bearing on the Sectional seeding. The Crusaders are 7-3, while East Liverpool is 9-1 and Wellsville 8-2.

The Magics are even more defensive - minded than the Potters. They have yielded only 44.4 points a game, while scoring 49.3 a game. East Liverpool is scoring 61.0 a game and yielding 45.7.

Bo Dutton, the Barberton coach, is an exponent of the 1-3-1 "Tennessee Trap" defense. Last season at the M.A. the Magics were the ones trapped, as the Potters raced to a 39-10 halftime lead and coasted to a 52-29 win.

The only returning starter from last season for Barberton is 6-2 Elwood Palmer, who is the leading scorer. Up from the reserve team is 6-7 Jerry Uhryk, who is not much of a scorer, but is effective on the boards. The other starters are all 6-0, seniors Bill Velloney and Rusty McCune and junior Bob Lewis. Andy Bodnar, 6-1, is the sixth man.

Barberton is 8-3 overall, with wins over Wadsworth, Akron East, Akron Springfield, Akron St. Vincent, Akron Hoban, Canton Timken, Alliance and Niles. Losses were to Akron Buchtel, Salem, and Cuyahoga Falls, 49-46 in triple overtime Saturday night.

Steubenville Central lost two close games to the Potters last season, including a double-overtime thriller in the sectional finals, and coach John Nese is primed for revenge. The Crusaders haven't had a game since last Friday, so have had plenty of time to prepare for the Potters. Central started off with five straight wins, over Wintersville, Toronto, Follansbee, Westinghouse and Martins Ferry, but have slumped lately, losing to Coshocton, Steubenville and Follansbee while beating Mingo and Weirton Madonna. The last three games have been tense, with Big Red winning 38-37, Follansbee triumphing 45-43 and the Blue Dons falling 50-47. Westinghouse, a five point loser to East Liverpool, took Central into overtime before bowing.

Returning starters from last year are 6-5 Mike Berarducci, the leading scorer, and 6-3 Brian Madden. Other starters are Dave Kearney, Tim Berrett and Dave Clark, all 5-11. Hap Palmer, 6-5, who is better known to East Liverpool fans as one of the pitchers on the local Colt League team that got to the Colt World Series in California last summer, is the sixth man for the Crusaders.

Potter coach Clint McConnell notes that several players have missed some practices this week due to various reasons, and that preparing for teams like Barberton and Central that have different styles can be difficult. The Crusaders are expected to run quite a bit more but Nese is known to come up with anything and everything in the way of offenses and defenses to keep his team in the game.

Penn Surprises Villanova

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

The Wildcats of Villanova ran afoul of the cool cats of Pennsylvania Wednesday night.

The result was a Penn slowdown that left Villanova Coach Jack Kraft doing a slow burn after the unheralded Quakers upset the ninth-ranked Wildcats 32-30.

The only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action was the fourth-ranked Davidson Wildcats, who scratched out a 90-82 triumph over stubborn Wake Forest.

A long jump shot by sophomore Steve Bilsky with three seconds left gave Penn its dramatic victory and saddled Villanova with its second loss in 12 starts.

The Quakers froze the ball after Villanova's high-scoring Howard Porter, who managed only three points all night, missed a free throw with 3:35 remaining. Villanova stayed in its zone and finally Penn called time out with 26 seconds left and again five seconds later.

"The play was set up for either me or Dave Wohl to take a jumper," Bilsky explained. "I looked at the clock and saw there were only seven seconds left. It was a little further out than I usually shoot from, but I kew there wouldn't be time to set up a better shot."

Coach Dick Harter, who resorted to the slowdown several times in the past, was ecstatic.

"I can't believe it," he said. "Villanova's the best team we've played since I've been here."

Ecstatic doesn't quite describe Kraft's feelings.

"What can I say?" he wailed. "I tried everything I could to make them play, but they wouldn't. I'm not about to fault Dick. It's what he felt he had to do to win, and he won.

"I feel bad for our kids. I feel bad that we lost that way. I would have liked it better if we'd gotten bombed. But that's the game of basketball. You've got to expect everything. The last thing I told the boys when they went out on the court was to watch for the slowdown."

Penn led 19-18 at halftime and the winning shot made Bilsky the game's high scorer with 10 points.

Davidson made 30 of 44 free throws to turn back Wake Forest. It was the Wildcats' 11th triumph in 12 games.

They opened up six-point leads several times in the firsthalf, but Wake Forest caught up each time. The Wildcats then broke away from a 43-41 halftime lead to a nine-point margin midway through the second half behind Mike Maloy and Jerry Kroll, who scored 27 and 23 points, respectively.

Wake Forest closed to 80-76 with 2½ minutes left but Mike O'Neill scored six of his 12 points down the stretcht o clinch the victory.

Notre Dame, ranked 16th, whipped Detroit 84-77 despite 30 points by Olympic star Spencer Haywood of the Titans and two technical fouls against Coach Johnny Dee, his first in 61 games.

Detroit led 44-40 at halftime but Notre Dame caught up at 68-all and ran off the next six points, four by Bob Arnzen, who paced the Irish with 23 points.

Dayton Upsets Louisville; Miami Tops Ohio U.

By The Associated Press

Dayton's Flyers got sweet revenge the hard way and Miami's Redskins kept their Mid-America Conference slate clean in Ohio college basketball Wednesday night.

Dayton nosed out Louisville, 69-67, thanks to sharp work from the free throw line, getting even for an 84-69 beating at the hands of the Cardinals last month.

Louisville scored four more field goals than Dayton but the Flyers hit on 19 of 35 free throws to more than make up for the difference. Louisville scored on 9 of 18 free throws.

Lousville's Butch Beard, with 20 points, and Mike Grosso, with 18, topped scorers. Steve Turnwald was high for Dayton with 17 points.

The Flyers now are 11-2 for the season and Lousville stands at 10-3.

Miami's big gun in the Redskins' fourth straight victory in Mid-American Conference was Walt Williams who scored 22 points and grabbed 17 rebounds.

The Redskins, the only team with an unbeaten mark in MAC play, hit 40.3 per cent of their field goal shots and took advantage of 18 Bob at turnovers in the first half.

In the only other Mid-American Conference game, Kent State defeated Bowling Green 59-54 with Doug Grayson showing the way with 16 points. Dan McElmore was high scorer for Bowling Green with 15 points.

Marietta nipped Otterbein 73-71 in an Ohio Conference game when Max Hillman hit on a 35-footer in the last second. Hillman led his team with 19 points. Jim McKee scored 21 for Otterbein.

In the only other Ohio Conference action, Wooster rolled over Mt. Union 81-61. Tom Dinger showed the way for the winners with 33 points. Doug Mason scored 22 points for Mt. Union.

Three free throws in the last five seconds — two by Jerry Pavlas and one by Henry Jordan — lifted Cleveland State to a 60-57 victory over Akron. Roger Johnson led scorers with 25 points for Akron. Harvey Smith scored 17 for Cleveland State.

Sophomore Sterling Quant poured in seven points in the last three minutes to help Central State to a 51-43 triumph over Ohio Northern.

Capital walloped Wilmington 80-67 with Roger Garri making 20 points and Mike Dreeli getting 19. Stan Kiehl led Wilmington scorers with 19 points.

Youngstown moved out from a seven-point halftime lead to knocked down Steubenville 88-65. John McElroy led Youngstown with 25 points, 18 of them in the second half.

Edwards Gets Shutout

Wings Blank Canadiens; Penguins Vacate Cellar

By The Associated Press

One plus one equals five as far as the Detroit Red Wings are concerned, and the new math has nothing to do with it.

Rookie Poul Popiel's first National Hockey League goal and goalie Roy Edwards' first shutout sparked the surging Red Wings to their fifth consecutive victory Wednesday night, a 4-0 rout of Montreal that enabled them to vault out of the NHL's East Division cellar into fifth place, one point ahead of idle New York.

Elsewhere, Toronto rallied with two goals in the final 5½ minutes to tie Boston 5-5, surprising Oakland edged Chicago 4-3, St. Louis held off Philadelphia 4-3 and Pittsburgh downed Minnesota 3-1.

Popiel's soft 60-foot shot got by Montreal goalie Tony Esposito after only 53 seconds of play and Frank Mahovlich, Alex Delvecchio and Nick Libett beat the rookie netminder in the second period as the Wings won in Montreal for the first time since the 1966 Stanley Cup playoff finals.

The 31-year-old Edwards, a veteran minor leaguer who finally made the NHL last season, kicked out 36 shots.

"We played three full periods of hockey," said Coach Bill Gadsby. "There were no letdowns as there have been in other games. We kept the pressure on them from start to finish.

"I thought Edwards played a terrific game. But so did our defense. You have to get top performance from the defensemen in order to get a shutout in this league."

Late goals by Murray Oliver and Tim Horton gave Toronto its tie with Boston and kept intact the Bruins' streak of not having won in Maple Leaf Gardens since Nov. 27, 1965. They have managed five ties in 21 games.

The goals came shortly after Phil Esposito and John McKenzie had given the Bruins a 5-3 lead by scoring less than 2½ minutes apart.

The one point for the tie increased Boston's East Division lead to two points over Montreal. The Bruins have lost only once in their last 15 games. Toronto moved into a third-place deadlock with Chicago, three points ahead of Detroit.

Ron Murphy, Ken Hodge and Jim Harrison scored for Boston while Mike Walton got two goals and George Armstrong one for the Leafs, setting up the late fireworks.

Esposito's goal was his 26th and, coupled with an assist, gave him 20 points in his last eight games and the NHL scoring lead with 61 points to 60 for Chicago's Bobby Hull.

Defenseman Carol Vadnais scored unassisted goals in the second and third periods as Oakland outlasted Chicago. Gary Jarrett and Ted Hampson also tallied for the Seals.

Vadnais' goal with 10:15 left proved to be the winner as Bob Schmautz tallied at 16:11 for the Black Hawks and Jim Pappin connected with nine seconds to go.

Ron Schock's second goal of the night broke a 2-2 tie at 3:11 of the final period and Tim Ecclestone got the eventual winner five minutes later to extend St. Louis' string to 16 games without defeat against West Division rivals.

Pittsburgh's triumph over Minnesota enabled the Penguins to break a tie with the North Stars for last place in the West Division. The losers' Claude Larose scored first but Earl Ingarfield, Billy Dea and Lou Angotti scored for Pittsburgh.

Dukes Top St. Francis As Brawl Mars Game

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—A brawl broke out near the end of the Duquesne - St. Francis basketball game Wednesday night and four players were injured as fans poured onto the court and fists flew.

Ken Tabaka of St. Francis was treated for a facial cut and admitted overnight to a hospital for observation. Len Aden of St. Francis and two Duquesne players—Barry and Garry Nelson, the 6-foot-9 twins—were also treated at a hospital for cuts.

The fight started wth 8:38 left and Duquesne comfortably ahead.

In the confusion, Snodgrass stepped on Majors and then Majors grabbed Snodgrass' leg.

That was it for most of the 3,200 fans and they emptied onto the floor along with both benches. It took 10 minutes to restore order.

The bad blood started in the first half when Duquesne coach Red Manning objected to St. Francis coach John Clark's attempt to insert a freshman, Kevin Porter, into the game.

Manning contended that St. Francis had agreed not to play freshmen against Duquesne. The Frankies are allowed to use freshmen under NCAA rules because it is a small school.

Before the game could resume Clark again tried to put Porter in. Manning threatened to pull the Dukes off the floor.

Clark called Porter back.

Duquesne, 12th ranked in the nation, won 79-55.

Barbara Rubin Foiled In Riding Attempt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I'm going to ride and ride and ride. And I'll make it someday," Barbara Jo Rubin said.

But she was disappointed Wednesday.

Male jockeys thwarted her effort to become the first girl rider in American thoroughbred racing history. Now the petite 19-year-old brunette says she's determined to carry on her fight, to take it to court if necessary.

Dressed in the gold and red slacks she had hoped to wear in the fourth race at Tropical Park Wednesday, Barbara Jo told newsmen: "I didn't expect this at all. I was all ready to go. The male jockeys were so nice to me this morning."

Fighting back tears, she added: "I think there were just a few of them who seemed to be against me. But I'm going to try and I hope I'll be the first woman to race some day."

About 100 male jockeys threatened a mass boycott at Tropical if the former exercise girl were allowed to ride a horse named Stoneland in the fourth race.

After a stormy meeting in the jockey room, the 11 jockeys in the third race refused to come out unless Barbara Jo was removed from her horse.

Trainer Bryan Webb bowed to the pressure and broke the news to Barbara Jo.

"Barbara, honey," he said. "You're stuck. You ain't gonna ride." Webb explained "it was a case of taking her off or calling the race off."

Attorney Robert H. Burns of the American Civil Liberties Union talked with Barbara Jo and her father, a Miami tavern owner, and said he would go to court charging interference with the right of contract.

Burn said he would name each jockey in the third and fourth races and the Jockeys Guild as a group if collusion could be proved. He said he also will consider federal action if it could be proved that anti-trust laws had been violated.

Saul Silberman, owner of Tropical Park, said it was useless to argue after the male jockeys took their action.

"The jockeys felt there were two problems," Silberman said. "Danger to life and danger to their livelihood. A lot of the boys don't get too many mounts. The more riders, the less chance there is of making a living."

Racing Commission Chairman L. B. Walker said the commission will inquire into the situation.

Trainer Webb replaced Miss Rubin with Jorge Velasquez, who finished ninth on Stoneland at odds of 3-1. The horse had been listed at 12-1 in the morning line with Barbara Jo aboard.

Andros Ponders Pitt Job

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dee Andros of Oregon State flies home today to think it over for a few days before he decides whether to take the head football coaching job at Pitt.

"What I've seen is very, very impressive," Andros said Wednesday after getting the "Duquesne Club" treatment.

"The chancellor and everyone has a great hunger for a winner," Andros said.

The jovial, stockily built veteran of more than 20 years of college coaching said he would have to talk to the Oregon State president, the athletic director and his wife before he makes a decision. He said it would be at least Saturday night before he can say what he will do.

Andros — nicknamed "The Great Pumpkin" because of his size and his penchant for wearing the Oregon State colors of orange and black—would not say what the terms of Pitt's offer were.

But, he said, "they took me to lunch at the Duquesne Club with three or four alumni . . . and I guess you can say I got the treatment."

The Duquesne Club is one of the country's wealthiest and most exclusive men's clubs.

Andros said he believed he could build a winner at Pitt, which is 3-27 for the past three years.

"The big thing will be to get over a defeatist attitude as it might exist among the faculty, alumni, or the squad," he said.

Andros said his wife's feelings would be a big factor in his decision. Reminded that Frank Kush of Arizona State indicated his wife's feelings were a big reason for his decision to back out of the Pitt job, Andros said:

"Remember that I've been at eight state universities. She (his) wife knows how to pack."

EL Away Friday, Home Saturday

By TURK PIERCE
Review Sports Editor

The East Liverpool Potters take on two tough basketball foes this weekend, traveling to Barberton Friday night and hosting Steubenville Central Saturday night.

The game at Barberton is for the Big 8 lead. The Potters are leading the league with a 2-0 mark, while Barberton is next at 2-1. The Central game could have a bearing on the Sectional seeding. The Crusaders are 7-3, while East Liverpool is 9-1 and Wellsville 8-2.

The Magics are even more defensive - minded than the Potters. They have yielded only 44.4 points a game, while scoring 49.3 a game. East Liverpool is scoring 61.0 a game and yielding 45.7.

Bo Dutton, the Barberton coach, is an exponent of the 1-3-1 "Tennessee Trap" defense. Last season at the M.A. the Magics were the ones trapped, as the Potters raced to a 39-10 halftime lead and coasted to a 52-29 win.

The only returning starter from last season for Barberton is 6-2 Elwood Palmer, who is the leading scorer. Up from the reserve team is 6-7 Jerry Uhryk, who is not much of a scorer, but is effective on the boards. The other starters are all 6-0, seniors Bill Velloney and Rusty McCune and junior Bob Lewis. Andy Bodnar, 6-1, is the sixth man.

Barberton is 8-3 overall, with wins over Wadsworth, Akron East, Akron Springfield, Akron St. Vincent, Akron Hoban, Canton Timken, Alliance and Niles. Losses were to Akron Buchtel, Salem, and Cuyahoga Falls, 49-46 in triple overtime Saturday night.

Steubenville Central lost two close games to the Potters last season, including a double-overtime thriller in the sectional finals, and coach John Nese is primed for revenge. The Crusaders haven't had a game since last Friday, so have had plenty of time to prepare for the Potters. Central started off with five straight wins, over Wintersville, Toronto, Follansbee, Westinghouse and Martins Ferry, but have slumped lately, losing to Coshocton, Steubenville and Follansbee while beating Mingo and Weirton Madonna. The last three games have been tense, with Big Red winning 38-37, Follansbee triumphing 45-43 and the Blue Dons falling 50-47. Westinghouse, a five point loser to East Liverpool, took Central into overtime before bowing.

Returning starters from last year are 6-5 Mike Berarducci, the leading scorer, and 6-3 Brian Madden. Other starters are Dave Kearney, Tim Berrett and Dave Clark, all 5-11. Hap Palmer, 6-5, who is better known to East Liverpool fans as one of the pitchers on the local Colt League team that got to the Colt World Series in California last summer, is the sixth man for the Crusaders.

Potter coach Clint McConnell notes that several players have missed some practices this week due to various reasons, and that preparing for teams like Barberton and Central that have different styles can be difficult. The Crusaders are expected to run quite a bit more but Nese is known to come up with anything and everything in the way of offenses and defenses to keep his team in the game.

Edwards Gets Shutout

Wings Blank Canadiens; Penguins Vacate Cellar

By The Associated Press

One plus one equals five as far as the Detroit Red Wings are concerned, and the new math has nothing to do with it.

Rookie Poul Popiel's first National Hockey League goal and goalie Roy Edwards' first shutout sparked the surging Red Wings to their fifth consecutive victory Wednesday night, a 4-0 rout of Montreal that enabled them to vault out of the NHL's East Division cellar into fifth place, one point ahead of idle New York.

Elsewhere, Toronto rallied with two goals in the final 5½ minutes to tie Boston 5-5, surprising Oakland edged Chicago 4-3, St. Louis held off Philadelphia 4-3 and Pittsburgh downed Minnesota 3-1.

Popiel's soft 60-foot shot got by Montreal goalie Tony Esposito after only 53 seconds of play and Frank Mahovlich, Alex Delvecchio and Nick Libett beat the rookie netminder in the second period as the Wings won in Montreal for the first time since the 1966 Stanley Cup playoff finals.

The 31-year-old Edwards, a veteran minor leaguer who finally made the NHL last season, kicked out 36 shots.

"We played three full periods of hockey," said Coach Bill Gadsby. "There were no letdowns as there have been in other games. We kept the pressure on them from start to finish.

"I thought Edwards played a terrific game. But so did our defense. You have to get top performance from the defensemen in order to get a shutout in this league."

Late goals by Murray Oliver and Tim Horton gave Toronto its tie with Boston and kept intact the Bruins' streak of not having won in Maple Leaf Gardens since Nov. 27, 1965. They have managed five ties in 21 games.

The goals came shortly after Phil Esposito and John McKenzie had given the Bruins a 5-3 lead by scoring less than 2½ minutes apart.

The one point for the tie increased Boston's East Division lead to two points over Montreal. The Bruins have lost only once in their last 15 games. Toronto moved into a third-place deadlock with Chicago, three points ahead of Detroit.

Ron Murphy, Ken Hodge and Jim Harrison scored for Boston while Mike Walton got two goals and George Armstrong one for the Leafs, setting up the late fireworks.

Esposito's goal was his 26th and, coupled with an assist, gave him 20 points in his last eight games and the NHL scoring lead with 61 points to 60 for Chicago's Bobby Hull.

Defenseman Carol Vadnais scored unassisted goals in the second and third periods as Oakland outlasted Chicago. Gary Jarrett and Ted Hampson also tallied for the Seals.

Vadnais' goal with 10:15 left proved to be the winner as Bob Schmautz tallied at 16:11 for the Black Hawks and Jim Pappin connected with nine seconds to go.

Ron Schock's second goal of the night broke a 2-2 tie at 3:11 of the final period and Tim Ecclestone got the eventual winner five minutes later to extend St. Louis' string to 16 games without defeat against West Division rivals.

Pittsburgh's triumph over Minnesota enabled the Penguins to break a tie with the North Stars for last place in the West Division. The losers' Claude Larose scored first but Earl Ingarfield, Billy Dea and Lou Angotti scored for Pittsburgh.

Dukes Top St. Francis As Brawl Mars Game

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP)—A brawl broke out near the end of the Duquesne - St. Francis basketball game Wednesday night and four players were injured as fans poured onto the court and fists flew.

Ken Tabaka of St. Francis was treated for a facial cut and admitted overnight to a hospital for observation. Len Aden of St. Francis and two Duquesne players—Barry and Garry Nelson, the 6-foot-9 twins—were also treated at a hospital for cuts.

The fight started wth 8:38 left and Duquesne comfortably ahead.

In the confusion, Snodgrass stepped on Majors and then Majors grabbed Snodgrass' leg.

That was it for most of the 3,200 fans and they emptied onto the floor along with both benches. It took 10 minutes to restore order.

The bad blood started in the first half when Duquesne coach Red Manning objected to St. Francis coach John Clark's attempt to insert a freshman, Kevin Porter, into the game.

Manning contended that St. Francis had agreed not to play freshmen against Duquesne. The Frankies are allowed to use freshmen under NCAA rules because it is a small school.

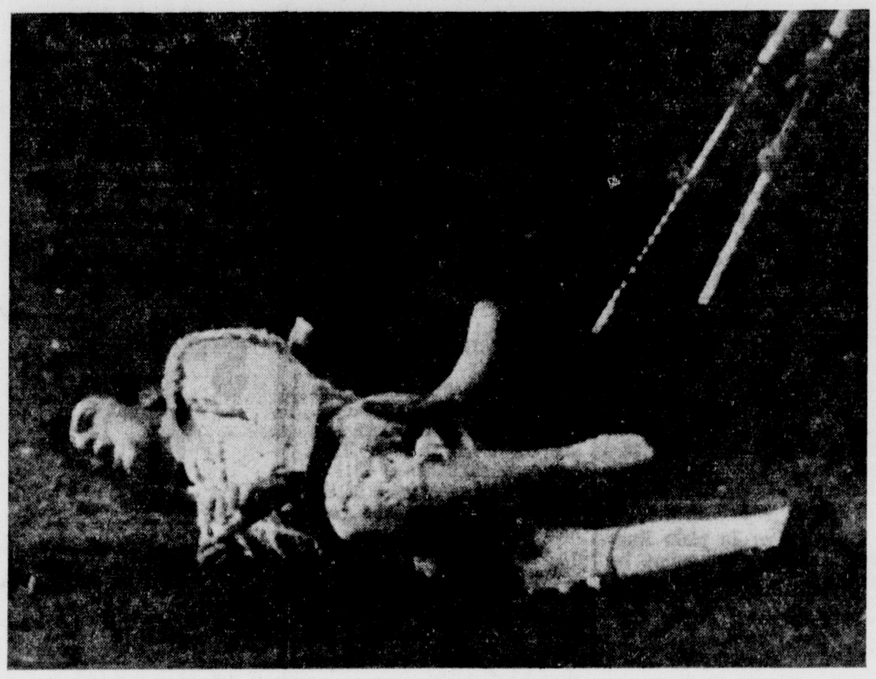

Before the game could resume Clark again tried to put Porter in. Manning threatened to pull the Dukes off the floor.

Clark called Porter back.

Duquesne, 12th ranked in the nation, won 79-55.

Penn Surprises Villanova

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON

The Wildcats of Villanova ran afoul of the cool cats of Pennsylvania Wednesday night.

The result was a Penn slowdown that left Villanova Coach Jack Kraft doing a slow burn after the unheralded Quakers upset the ninth-ranked Wildcats 32-30.

The only other team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action was the fourth-ranked Davidson Wildcats, who scratched out a 90-82 triumph over stubborn Wake Forest.

A long jump shot by sophomore Steve Bilsky with three seconds left gave Penn its dramatic victory and saddled Villanova with its second loss in 12 starts.

The Quakers froze the ball after Villanova's high-scoring Howard Porter, who managed only three points all night, missed a free throw with 3:35 remaining. Villanova stayed in its zone and finally Penn called time out with 26 seconds left and again five seconds later.

"The play was set up for either me or Dave Wohl to take a jumper," Bilsky explained. "I looked at the clock and saw there were only seven seconds left. It was a little further out than I usually shoot from, but I kew there wouldn't be time to set up a better shot."

Coach Dick Harter, who resorted to the slowdown several times in the past, was ecstatic.

"I can't believe it," he said. "Villanova's the best team we've played since I've been here."

Ecstatic doesn't quite describe Kraft's feelings.

"What can I say?" he wailed. "I tried everything I could to make them play, but they wouldn't. I'm not about to fault Dick. It's what he felt he had to do to win, and he won.

"I feel bad for our kids. I feel bad that we lost that way. I would have liked it better if we'd gotten bombed. But that's the game of basketball. You've got to expect everything. The last thing I told the boys when they went out on the court was to watch for the slowdown."

Penn led 19-18 at halftime and the winning shot made Bilsky the game's high scorer with 10 points.

Davidson made 30 of 44 free throws to turn back Wake Forest. It was the Wildcats' 11th triumph in 12 games.

They opened up six-point leads several times in the firsthalf, but Wake Forest caught up each time. The Wildcats then broke away from a 43-41 halftime lead to a nine-point margin midway through the second half behind Mike Maloy and Jerry Kroll, who scored 27 and 23 points, respectively.

Wake Forest closed to 80-76 with 2½ minutes left but Mike O'Neill scored six of his 12 points down the stretcht o clinch the victory.

Notre Dame, ranked 16th, whipped Detroit 84-77 despite 30 points by Olympic star Spencer Haywood of the Titans and two technical fouls against Coach Johnny Dee, his first in 61 games.

Detroit led 44-40 at halftime but Notre Dame caught up at 68-all and ran off the next six points, four by Bob Arnzen, who paced the Irish with 23 points.

Dayton Upsets Louisville; Miami Tops Ohio U.

By The Associated Press

Dayton's Flyers got sweet revenge the hard way and Miami's Redskins kept their Mid-America Conference slate clean in Ohio college basketball Wednesday night.

Dayton nosed out Louisville, 69-67, thanks to sharp work from the free throw line, getting even for an 84-69 beating at the hands of the Cardinals last month.

Louisville scored four more field goals than Dayton but the Flyers hit on 19 of 35 free throws to more than make up for the difference. Louisville scored on 9 of 18 free throws.

Lousville's Butch Beard, with 20 points, and Mike Grosso, with 18, topped scorers. Steve Turnwald was high for Dayton with 17 points.

The Flyers now are 11-2 for the season and Lousville stands at 10-3.

Miami's big gun in the Redskins' fourth straight victory in Mid-American Conference was Walt Williams who scored 22 points and grabbed 17 rebounds.

The Redskins, the only team with an unbeaten mark in MAC play, hit 40.3 per cent of their field goal shots and took advantage of 18 Bob at turnovers in the first half.

In the only other Mid-American Conference game, Kent State defeated Bowling Green 59-54 with Doug Grayson showing the way with 16 points. Dan McElmore was high scorer for Bowling Green with 15 points.

Marietta nipped Otterbein 73-71 in an Ohio Conference game when Max Hillman hit on a 35-footer in the last second. Hillman led his team with 19 points. Jim McKee scored 21 for Otterbein.

In the only other Ohio Conference action, Wooster rolled over Mt. Union 81-61. Tom Dinger showed the way for the winners with 33 points. Doug Mason scored 22 points for Mt. Union.

Three free throws in the last five seconds — two by Jerry Pavlas and one by Henry Jordan — lifted Cleveland State to a 60-57 victory over Akron. Roger Johnson led scorers with 25 points for Akron. Harvey Smith scored 17 for Cleveland State.

Capital walloped Wilmington 80-67 with Roger Garri making 20 points and Mike Dreeli getting 19. Stan Kiehl led Wilmington scorers with 19 points.

Youngstown moved out from a seven-point halftime lead to knocked down Steubenville 88-65. John McElroy led Youngstown with 25 points, 18 of them in the second half.

Barbara Rubin Foiled In Riding Attempt

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—"I'm going to ride and ride and ride. And I'll make it someday," Barbara Jo Rubin said.

But she was disappointed Wednesday.

Male jockeys thwarted her effort to become the first girl rider in American thoroughbred racing history. Now the petite 19-year-old brunette says she's determined to carry on her fight, to take it to court if necessary.

Dressed in the gold and red slacks she had hoped to wear in the fourth race at Tropical Park Wednesday, Barbara Jo told newsmen: "I didn't expect this at all. I was all ready to go. The male jockeys were so nice to me this morning."

Fighting back tears, she added: "I think there were just a few of them who seemed to be against me. But I'm going to try and I hope I'll be the first woman to race some day."

About 100 male jockeys threatened a mass boycott at Tropical if the former exercise girl were allowed to ride a horse named Stoneland in the fourth race.

After a stormy meeting in the jockey room, the 11 jockeys in the third race refused to come out unless Barbara Jo was removed from her horse.

Trainer Bryan Webb bowed to the pressure and broke the news to Barbara Jo.

"Barbara, honey," he said. "You're stuck. You ain't gonna ride." Webb explained "it was a case of taking her off or calling the race off."

Attorney Robert H. Burns of the American Civil Liberties Union talked with Barbara Jo and her father, a Miami tavern owner, and said he would go to court charging interference with the right of contract.

Burn said he would name each jockey in the third and fourth races and the Jockeys Guild as a group if collusion could be proved. He said he also will consider federal action if it could be proved that anti-trust laws had been violated.

Saul Silberman, owner of Tropical Park, said it was useless to argue after the male jockeys took their action.

"The jockeys felt there were two problems," Silberman said. "Danger to life and danger to their livelihood. A lot of the boys don't get too many mounts. The more riders, the less chance there is of making a living."

Racing Commission Chairman L. B. Walker said the commission will inquire into the situation.

Trainer Webb replaced Miss Rubin with Jorge Velasquez, who finished ninth on Stoneland at odds of 3-1. The horse had been listed at 12-1 in the morning line with Barbara Jo aboard.

Andros Ponders Pitt Job

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dee Andros of Oregon State flies home today to think it over for a few days before he decides whether to take the head football coaching job at Pitt.

"What I've seen is very, very impressive," Andros said Wednesday after getting the "Duquesne Club" treatment.

"The chancellor and everyone has a great hunger for a winner," Andros said.

The jovial, stockily built veteran of more than 20 years of college coaching said he would have to talk to the Oregon State president, the athletic director and his wife before he makes a decision. He said it would be at least Saturday night before he can say what he will do.

Andros — nicknamed "The Great Pumpkin" because of his size and his penchant for wearing the Oregon State colors of orange and black—would not say what the terms of Pitt's offer were.

But, he said, "they took me to lunch at the Duquesne Club with three or four alumni . . . and I guess you can say I got the treatment."

The Duquesne Club is one of the country's wealthiest and most exclusive men's clubs.

Andros said he believed he could build a winner at Pitt, which is 3-27 for the past three years.

"The big thing will be to get over a defeatist attitude as it might exist among the faculty, alumni, or the squad," he said.

Andros said his wife's feelings would be a big factor in his decision. Reminded that Frank Kush of Arizona State indicated his wife's feelings were a big reason for his decision to back out of the Pitt job, Andros said:

"Remember that I've been at eight state universities. She (his) wife knows how to pack."

Pinky Higgins Sentenced To Four-Year Jail Term

RUSTON, La. (AP) — Michael "Pinkey" Higgins, former manager of the Boston Red Sox, is scheduled to leave today for the state penitentiary to begin a four-year sentence for negligent homicide.

Higgins, 59, pleaded guilty to the charge in connection with an auto accident in which one man was killed and several injured on Feb. 27, 1968.

Lincoln Parish Dist. Atty. Ragan Madden said the sheriff's office at Ruston is making arrangements to transfer Higgins to the state prison at Angola.

"He looks like he's in pretty good shape," Madden said. "He's been very cooperative, very penitent. He's a very likeable kind of individual."

Higgins, who played 13 seasons in the American League with Philadelphia, Boston, and Detroit, was a scout for the Houston Astros at the time of the accident.

His auto went out of control and crashed ino a state highway department crew which was working on the pavement. George Killen of Simsboro, La. was killed.

Madden said that Higgins was intoxicated at the time and that the negligent homicide charge included that accusation. "The greater offense includes the lesser," he said.

Sentencing was Monday in Lincoln Parish District Court. Higgins is lodged in the parish jail at Ruston awaiting transfer. The maximum penalty was five years.

Higgins pleaded guilty several months ago, but sentencing was delayed because he had a heart condition. "It looks to me like he has lost 30 or 40 pounds," the district attorney said.

"I know that he has a very enviable record," Madden said. "It's just one of those tragic cases."

Higgins' lifetime batting average was .292. He became manager of the Red Sox in 1955 and was replaced by Billy Jurges during the 1959 season.

He returned to the Red Sox later that year as a special assistant in the front office and became manager again in June 1960, succeeding Jurges. He served through 1962.

Higgins was later director of player personnel until he was fired in 1965.

West Receivers Good

Stram Has Hadl, Dawson To Combat Joe Namath

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) --Hank Stram wouldn't dispute for a minute that Joe Namath is a great quarterback, but he doesn't think that gives any edge to the East team in Sunday's American Football League All-Star game.

"We think we have two great quarterbacks," said coach of the West All-Stars. His signal callers are San Diego's John Hakl and his own Kansas City chief, Len Dawson.

Just as Namath will have familiar pass receivers in his New York Jet teammates, George Sauer and Bon Maynard, Hadl will have San Diego compatriots.

The West squad of pass receivers includes Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison from San Diego. As a replacement for Billy Cannon of Oakland at tight end, Hadl got a bonus in teammate Jacque MacKinnon.

"Add to that group Bob Trumpy of Cincinatti and Warren Wells of Oakland and you can see that we have super receivers for our great quarterbacks," Stram said.

Because none of his West players had seen action in at least three weeks, Stram worked them twice a day Monday through Wednesday and tapered off to once today.

"Our timing is coming along," he said, "and I think we've caught up with the East in conditioning."

The 11 members of the world champion Jets on the East team had the advantage, as Stram sees it, of playing in the Super Bowl last Sunday.

Lemm, Houston Oilers coach guilding the East All- Stars, had a ragged session Wednesday when the Jets joined the team for the first time.

"We will put it together by Friday," Lemm said with an unworried look. "These are pros and they will be ready to play."

LISBON — The Knights of Columbus will serve their annual "appreciation supper" for Lisbon High School athletes, team managers, cheerleaders and coaches at 6 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 22, in the new Parish Hall at St. George Catholic Church.

The sponsors expect about 80 for the buffet meal.

Cliff Hagan Sparks Win For Dallas

By The Associated Press

Cliff Hagan 37-year-old player-coach of the Dallas Chaparrals, says he doesn't like to play any more than necessary.

The one-time St. Louis star in the National Basketball Association found it necessary Wednesday night, however, coming off the bench with 3:05 left in overtime and driving his team to a 127-120 American Basketball Association victory over Indiana.

He dropped in two free throws, then whipped three quick passes that Cincy Powell converted into goals and the Chaparrals had it in hand.

Powell pumped in 36 points and Ron Boone added 32 to ignite the Dallas attack.

In other ABA play the Los Angeles Stars made it six wins out of eight overtime games when they beat Miami 134-129.

Rookies George Stone and Larry Miller connected for season highs of 36 and 33, respectively, while Don Freeman of the Floridians took scoring honors with 37.

The Kentucky Colonels broke away from the New York Nets in the third period at Louisville and coasted to a 115-102 victory. Louis Dampier led the Colonel pace with 33 points, followed by Daryl Carrier with 24. Ron Perry was high for New York with 24.

And in Denver, the Rockets scored a 112-107 win over the New Orleans Buccaneers with Larry Jones scoring 39 points for the winners. Jimmy Jones was high man for the Buccaneers with 24.

No games were scheduled in the NBA.

Kennedy Games Open Tonight

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)— The vanguard of more than 300 of the world's top athletes will converge today at this winter resort in the Adirondack Mountains for the opening of the first annual John F. Kennedy International Memorial Winter Games.

A member of the late president's family was expected to take part in the torchlight ceremony at the Olympic Arena, kicking off the eight weeks of international competition.

Nearly $2 million has been spent in improving facilities at the site of the 1932 winter olympics, including a major face-lifting of Mt. Van Hoevenberg's famed Olympic bobsled run.

The games are the outgrowth of a suggestion by Kennedy to the Amateur Athletic Union, that the United States might further international understanding by off-year, mini-olympic competition.

Franz Keller of West Germany; Giacomo Aimoni, Italy's skiing mailman, and Ludwig Zajc of Yougoslavia are among those entered in the 70-meter ski jumping Saturday and Sunday.

Other events highlighting the games, which run through March 8, will be speed and figure skating, cross-country skiing, world two and four-man bobsled racing, hockey, luge racing and snowmobile competition.

The largest invasion of sports stars is expected in February for the bobsled championships.

Nations to be represented include Austria, Italy, Switzerland West Germany, Great Britain, Canada, Japan, Sweden, Rumania, Belgium, France, British West Indies and the United States.

Juszczak's whipped Daugherty's 81-52 with B. Juszczak scoring 40 for the winners and Birch 33 for the losers.

Eight Picks Unanimous

Crestview-Lowellville Key Game In Yogi Race

The big games in the area this weekend for the Review Cage Yogis are Crestview at Lowellville and Jefferson Union at Stanton.

The eight other games, possibly of more importance in themselves, were all unanimous picks. But Leader Bob Duffy, Lorin Howard and Rose Nuzzo formed a minority that picked Crestview over Lowellville, and Turk Pierce went out on a limb to pick Stanton over Jefferson Union.

Ed Clutter, who performed a lot better in basketball than in football, was forced to drop out of the race for good. His place has been taken by new staffer Bill Crooks.

Crooks, along with Bob Shaffer, Pete Weaver and Chuck Campbell, forms the consensus this week. Everyone picked East Liverpool over Barberton and Steubenville Central, Wellsburg over Oak Glen, Midland over Rochester, Sebring over East Palestine, Leetonia over Columbiana, Wellsville over Beaver Local and Springfield over Beaver Local.

Morrall Eyes Redemption In Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Earl Morrall, who led the Baltimore Colts to the National Football League championship but came up short in the Super Bowl, hopes for better luck Sunday.

The veteran quarterback will share action with the Los Angeles Rams' Roman Gabriel in the 19th annual East-West All-Star Pro Bowl.

Coach George Allen of the Rams, who pilots the West, indicated Thursday Morrall will start the game.

"Morrall is the league's Player of the Year and he certainly deserves to start," said Allen.

The East's coach, Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, can choose between his own Don Meredith and Fran Tarkenton of the New York Giants.

Morrall will be working with two of his receivers from the Colts, John Mackey and Willie Richardson. He also will have Green Bay's Carroll Dale and the NFL's leading receiver, Clifton McNeil of the San Francisco 49ers.

The East also is blessed with top receivers and the league's leading ground gainer, Leroy Kelly of Cleveland.

East pass catchers include Homer Jones of New York, Paul Warfield of Cleveland, and Pittsburgh Steeler Roy Jefferson.

Michigan State sophomore basketball forward Steve Sizemore of Tulsa, Okla., went to MSU on an Alumni Distinguished Scholarship, one of 10 awarded annually by the school in nationwide competition.

John Gordy Quits Lions For Union

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Big John Gordy, who led a bitter players' revolt in the National Football League last summer, is retiring as a member of the Detroit Lions.

His new position: Executive Director of the NFL Players Association, a newly created post.

Gordy, as president of the association in 1968, spearheaded a players' demand for a better pension plan and other benefits.

A threatened boycott almost wrecked the staid old league before the exhibition season began.

Gordy's retirement after 11 years as a star offensive guard for Detroit, and his selection as executive director, came as the NFL players group and the American Football League Players Association, ended their joint winter meeting Wednesday night.

The new president, kicking specialist Jim Bakken of the St. Louis Cardinals, declared Gordy "will have our full support in the coming year."

"I humbly accept this position and I will continue to carry out the progressive policies established by the players association," Gordy said.

When the threatened players' strike was averted in mid-July, a spokesman for NFL owners said the settlement would cost $3 million for the years 1968—69 for pension benefits, administrative costs and related matters.

The players association main office will remain in Detroit, Lee Vance, public relations director, said.

Candlestick New Home Of Forty-Niners

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49'ers will play football in Candlestick Park, perhaps as early as next season.

The announcement came after Mayor Joseph Aloito withdrew his efforts Wednesday to build a new stadium in downtown San Francisco. A committee of the board of supervisors promptly approved a plan to expand and remodel Candlestick Park.

Lou Spadia, president of the 49ers, was delighted. He said he prefers the fall weather at Candlestick to that at a proposed site south of Market street in the city.

The committee was informed the cost of increasing the Candlestick capacity from 42,500 to 66,300 and other improvements would be about $9 million.

It recommended that San Francisco Stadium Inc., lease holder, submit a new plan for stadium expansion.

There have been controversies over Candlestick Park from the time it was completed eight years ago. There has been some talk lately of building a stadium in another part of the city.

The 49ers have played in Kezar Stadium in Golden Gate Park since the National Football League team was formed.

U.S. Girls Impressive In Ski Races

Austria (AP) — Although an American girl has yet to win one of the major ski races this season, their continued high team scores are surprising Europeans.

Erika Skinger, 19, of Stowe, Vt., paced her American teammates to three finishes among the top ten leaders in the Golden Key downhill race Wednesday.

Miss Skinger, who finished fifth, was clocked at two minutes 18.37 seconds.

Wiltrud Drexel, 18, of Austria skied off with top honors in the fast time of 2:16.7, more than two seconds ahead of the next best time. Two French girls, Florence Steurer, and Annie Famose finished second and third with times of 2:18.01 and 2:18.08.

RICK FORZANO

Rick Forzano New Navy Grid Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals, now looking for a new assistant, says he doesn't blame Rick Forzano for returning to the U.S. Naval Academy — this time as head football coach.

"Our loss is a fine thing for the Naval Academy," Brown said after learing of Forzano's appointment over 200 other candidates.

"It was a chance to run a big time show in his own right and I concur with him, he has to do it," Brown said.

Forzano goes to Navy on a three-year contract reported to be in the $22,000 a year bracket. He is 40 and a native of Akron, Ohio.

From 1959-64 he was an assistant football coach at the Academy.

Brown said he hasn't lined up anyone for Forzano's offensive backfield coaching job.

Pinky Higgins Sentenced To Four-Year Jail Term

RUSTON, La. (AP) — Michael "Pinkey" Higgins, former manager of the Boston Red Sox, is scheduled to leave today for the state penitentiary to begin a four-year sentence for negligent homicide.

Higgins, 59, pleaded guilty to the charge in connection with an auto accident in which one man was killed and several injured on Feb. 27, 1968.

Lincoln Parish Dist. Atty. Ragan Madden said the sheriff's office at Ruston is making arrangements to transfer Higgins to the state prison at Angola.

"He looks like he's in pretty good shape," Madden said. "He's been very cooperative, very penitent. He's a very likeable kind of individual."

Higgins, who played 13 seasons in the American League with Philadelphia, Boston, and Detroit, was a scout for the Houston Astros at the time of the accident.

His auto went out of control and crashed ino a state highway department crew which was working on the pavement. George Killen of Simsboro, La. was killed.

Madden said that Higgins was intoxicated at the time and that the negligent homicide charge included that accusation. "The greater offense includes the lesser," he said.

Sentencing was Monday in Lincoln Parish District Court. Higgins is lodged in the parish jail at Ruston awaiting transfer. The maximum penalty was five years.

Higgins pleaded guilty several months ago, but sentencing was delayed because he had a heart condition. "It looks to me like he has lost 30 or 40 pounds," the district attorney said.

PINKY HIGGINS

"I know that he has a very enviable record," Madden said. "It's just one of those tragic cases."

Higgins' lifetime batting average was .292. He became manager of the Red Sox in 1955 and was replaced by Billy Jurges during the 1959 season.

He returned to the Red Sox later that year as a special assistant in the front office and became manager again in June 1960, succeeding Jurges. He served through 1962.

Higgins was later director of player personnel until he was fired in 1965.

West Receivers Good

Stram Has Hadl, Dawson To Combat Joe Namath

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) --Hank Stram wouldn't dispute for a minute that Joe Namath is a great quarterback, but he doesn't think that gives any edge to the East team in Sunday's American Football League All-Star game.

"We think we have two great quarterbacks," said coach of the West All-Stars. His signal callers are San Diego's John Hakl and his own Kansas City chief, Len Dawson.

Just as Namath will have familiar pass receivers in his New York Jet teammates, George Sauer and Bon Maynard, Hadl will have San Diego compatriots.

The West squad of pass receivers includes Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison from San Diego. As a replacement for Billy Cannon of Oakland at tight end, Hadl got a bonus in teammate Jacque MacKinnon.

"Add to that group Bob Trumpy of Cincinatti and Warren Wells of Oakland and you can see that we have super receivers for our great quarterbacks," Stram said.

Because none of his West players had seen action in at least three weeks, Stram worked them twice a day Monday through Wednesday and tapered off to once today.

"Our timing is coming along," he said, "and I think we've caught up with the East in conditioning."

The 11 members of the world champion Jets on the East team had the advantage, as Stram sees it, of playing in the Super Bowl last Sunday.

Lemm, Houston Oilers coach guilding the East All- Stars, had a ragged session Wednesday when the Jets joined the team for the first time.

"We will put it together by Friday," Lemm said with an unworried look. "These are pros and they will be ready to play."

The sponsors expect about 80 for the buffet meal.

Cliff Hagan Sparks Win For Dallas

By The Associated Press

Cliff Hagan 37-year-old player-coach of the Dallas Chaparrals, says he doesn't like to play any more than necessary.

The one-time St. Louis star in the National Basketball Association found it necessary Wednesday night, however, coming off the bench with 3:05 left in overtime and driving his team to a 127-120 American Basketball Association victory over Indiana.

He dropped in two free throws, then whipped three quick passes that Cincy Powell converted into goals and the Chaparrals had it in hand.

Powell pumped in 36 points and Ron Boone added 32 to ignite the Dallas attack.

In other ABA play the Los Angeles Stars made it six wins out of eight overtime games when they beat Miami 134-129.

Rookies George Stone and Larry Miller connected for season highs of 36 and 33, respectively, while Don Freeman of the Floridians took scoring honors with 37.

The Kentucky Colonels broke away from the New York Nets in the third period at Louisville and coasted to a 115-102 victory. Louis Dampier led the Colonel pace with 33 points, followed by Daryl Carrier with 24. Ron Perry was high for New York with 24.

And in Denver, the Rockets scored a 112-107 win over the New Orleans Buccaneers with Larry Jones scoring 39 points for the winners. Jimmy Jones was high man for the Buccaneers with 24.

No games were scheduled in the NBA.

Kennedy Games Open Tonight

LAKE PLACID, N. Y. (AP)—The vanguard of more than 300 of the world's top athletes will converge today at this winter resort in the Adirondack Mountains for the opening of the first annual John F. Kennedy International Memorial Winter Games.

A member of the late president's family was expected to take part in the torchlight ceremony at the Olympic Arena, kicking off the eight weeks of international competition.

Nearly $2 million has been spent in improving facilities at the site of the 1932 winter olympics, including a major face-lifting of Mt. Van Hoevenberg's famed Olympic bobsled run.

The games are the outgrowth of a suggestion by Kennedy to the Amateur Athletic Union, that the United States might further international understanding by off-year, mini-olympic competition.

Franz Keller of West Germany; Giacomo Aimoni, Italy's skiing mailman, and Ludwig Zajc of Yougoslavia are among those entered in the 70-meter ski jumping Saturday and Sunday.

Other events highlighting the games, which run through March 8, will be speed and figure skating, cross-country skiing, world two and four-man bobsled racing, hockey, luge racing and snowmobile competition.

The largest invasion of sports stars is expected in February for the bobsled championships.

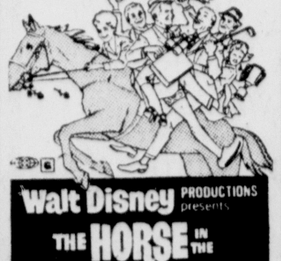

Nations to be represented include Austria, Italy, Switzerland West Germany, Great Britain, Canada, Japan, Sweden, Rumania, Belgium, France, British West Indies and the United States.

Eight Picks Unanimous

Crestview-Lowellville Key Game In Yogi Race

The big games in the area this weekend for the Review Cage Yogis are Crestview at Lowellville and Jefferson Union at Stanton.

The eight other games, possibly of more importance in themselves, were all unanimous picks. But Leader Bob Duffy, Lorin Howard and Rose Nuzzo formed a minority that picked Crestview over Lowellville, and Turk Pierce went out on a limb to pick Stanton over Jefferson Union.

Ed Clutter, who performed a lot better in basketball than in football, was forced to drop out of the race for good. His place has been taken by new staffer Bill Crooks.

Crooks, along with Bob Shaffer, Pete Weaver and Chuck Campbell, forms the consensus this week. Everyone picked East Liverpool over Barberton and Steubenville Central, Wellsburg over Oak Glen, Midland over Rochester, Sebring over East Palestine, Leetonia over Columbiana, Wellsville over Beaver Local and Springfield over Beaver Local.

Morrall Eyes Redemption In Pro Bowl

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Earl Morrall, who led the Baltimore Colts to the National Football League championship but came up short in the Super Bowl, hopes for better luck Sunday.

The veteran quarterback will share action with the Los Angeles Rams' Roman Gabriel in the 19th annual East-West All-Star Pro Bowl.

Coach George Allen of the Rams, who pilots the West, indicated Thursday Morrall will start the game.

"Morrall is the league's Player of the Year and he certainly deserves to start," said Allen.

The East's coach, Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys, can choose between his own Don Meredith and Fran Tarkenton of the New York Giants.

Morrall will be working with two of his receivers from the Colts, John Mackey and Willie Richardson. He also will have Green Bay's Carroll Dale and the NFL's leading receiver, Clifton McNeil of the San Francisco 49ers.

The East also is blessed with top receivers and the league's leading ground gainer, Leroy Kelly of Cleveland.

East pass catchers include Homer Jones of New York, Paul Warfield of Cleveland, and Pittsburgh Steeler Roy Jefferson.

Michigan State sophomore basketball forward Steve Sizemore of Tulsa, Okla., went to MSU on an Alumni Distinguished Scholarship, one of 10 awarded annually by the school in nationwide competition.

John Gordy Quits Lions For Union

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Big John Gordy, who led a bitter players' revolt in the National Football League last summer, is retiring as a member of the Detroit Lions.

His new position: Executive Director of the NFL Players Association, a newly created post.

Gordy, as president of the association in 1968, spearheaded a players' demand for a better pension plan and other benefits.

A threatened boycott almost wrecked the staid old league before the exhibition season began.

Gordy's retirement after 11 years as a star offensive guard for Detroit, and his selection as executive director, came as the NFL players group and the American Football League Players Association, ended their joint winter meeting Wednesday night.

The new president, kicking specialist Jim Bakken of the St. Louis Cardinals, declared Gordy "will have our full support in the coming year."

"I humbly accept this position and I will continue to carry out the progressive policies established by the players association," Gordy said.

When the threatened players' strike was averted in mid-July, a spokesman for NFL owners said the settlement would cost $3 million for the years 1968—69 for pension benefits, administrative costs and related matters.

The players association main office will remain in Detroit, Lee Vance, public relations director, said.

Candlestick New Home Of Forty-Niners

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco 49'ers will play football in Candlestick Park, perhaps as early as next season.

The announcement came after Mayor Joseph Aloito withdrew his efforts Wednesday to build a new stadium in downtown San Francisco. A committee of the board of supervisors promptly approved a plan to expand and remodel Candlestick Park.

Lou Spadia, president of the 49ers, was delighted. He said he prefers the fall weather at Candlestick to that at a proposed site south of Market street in the city.

The committee was informed the cost of increasing the Candlestick capacity from 42,500 to 66,300 and other improvements would be about $9 million.

It recommended that San Francisco Stadium Inc., lease holder, submit a new plan for stadium expansion.

There have been controversies over Candlestick Park from the time it was completed eight years ago. There has been some talk lately of building a stadium in another part of the city.

The 49ers have played in Kezar Stadium in Golden Gate Park since the National Football League team was formed.

U.S. Girls Impressive In Ski Races

Austria (AP) — Although an American girl has yet to win one of the major ski races this season, their continued high team scores are surprising Europeans.

Erika Skinger, 19, of Stowe, Vt., paced her American teammates to three finishes among the top ten leaders in the Golden Key downhill race Wednesday.

Miss Skinger, who finished fifth, was clocked at two minutes 18.37 seconds.

Wiltrud Drexel, 18, of Austria skied off with top honors in the fast time of 2:16.7, more than two seconds ahead of the next best time. Two French girls, Florence Steurer, and Annie Famose finished second and third with times of 2:18.01 and 2:18.08.

RICK FORZANO

Rick Forzano New Navy Grid Coach

CINCINNATI (AP) — Coach Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals, now looking for a new assistant, says he doesn't blame Rick Forzano for returning to the U.S. Naval Academy — this time as head football coach.

"Our loss is a fine thing for the Naval Academy," Brown said after learing of Forzano's appointment over 200 other candidates.

"It was a chance to run a big time show in his own right and I concur with him, he has to do it," Brown said.

Forzano goes to Navy on a three-year contract reported to be in the $22,000 a year bracket. He is 40 and a native of Akron, Ohio.

From 1959-64 he was an assistant football coach at the Academy.

Brown said he hasn't lined up anyone for Forzano's offensive backfield coaching job.

Junior Editors Quiz on AUTOS

QUESTION: What were the first American cars like?

ANSWER: Our artist has lined up a group of older cars in a sequence which will give you an over-all idea of American automobile development. The first gasoline-powered cars were originated in Europe in the 1860's. The first successful American gasoline car was the Duryea of 1893. It had wagon-type wheels and lights and was a true "horseless carriage." The breakthrough of American carmaking came in 1909, when Henry Ford's Model T, produced by mass production methods, began rolling off the assembly line in great numbers. This remarkably low-priced but efficient car is said to have "put America on wheels." The Chevrolet of 1913 looks more modern, with its curved rear fenders. The Pontiac, in 1926, shows the closed-in sedan body with glass windows, but cars were still high and boxy looking. The Mercury of 1939 shows a decided streamlined trend, away from the box-like look. The Kaiser used the longer, lower look around 1947. With the Edsel of 1958, cars were still lower and wider, but had larger windows.

(Douglas Lohr of Mineral Point, Pa., wins a prize for this question. You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Thursday, Jan. 16., the 16th day of 1969. There are 349 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history;

On this date in 1920, the 18th Amendment to the Constitution, prohibiting the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors, went into effect, giving birth to the "era of the speakeasy and bathtub gin."

In 1883 the Pendleton Act went into effect, providing for the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

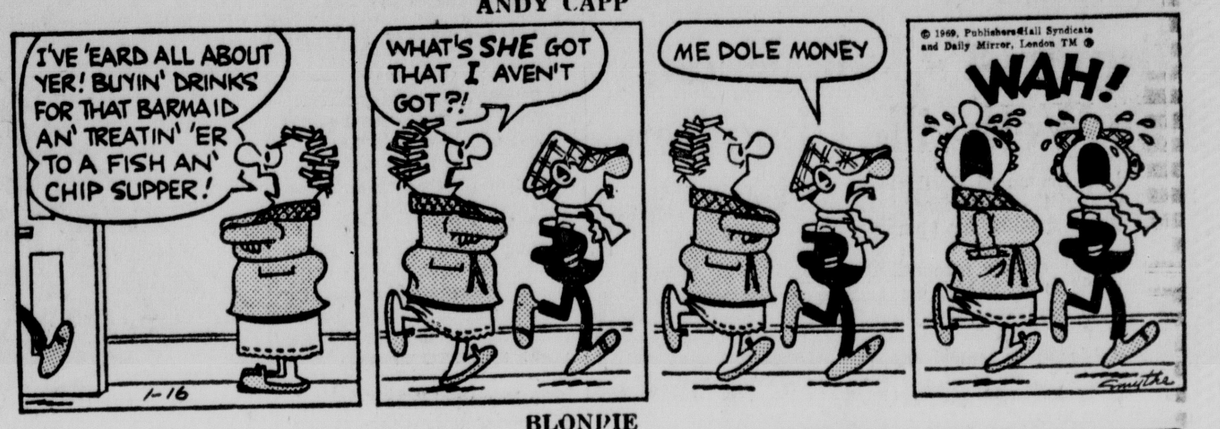

In 1920 a new motion picture, called The Kid, was released for public distribution. It starred Charlie Chaplin and little boy, soon to become the darling of the nation, Jackie Coogan.

In 1942, screen actress Carole Lombard and 21 other passengers were killed in the crash of a commercial airliner near Las Vegas, Nev.

In 1952, Soviet Russia ordered all foreign diplomats in Moscow to limit their movements to within 25 miles of the city; 22 cities of Russian Siberia were declared out of bounds for all foreigners.

In 1957, President Dwight D. Eisenhower sent to Congress a record peacetime budget, estimating federal expenditures by fiscal 1957-58 at $71.8 billion, but foreseeing a budget surplus of $1.8 billion in 1965, Willie Mays, San Francisco Giants centerfielder, signed his 1965 contract for $105,000, thus maintaining his status as basball's highest paid player.

Hope Held Note Published Will Be Slaying Clue

EUCLID, Ohio (AP) — A mysterious message published in the Cleveland Press at the request of police held the hope today of a clue in the pistol slaying of Mrs. Marlene Steele.

The message was: 'LIAJEF."

Police Chief Frank Payne said he had been told he would receive information concerning the slaying of the 37-year-old mother of two last week if the letters appeared in a newspaper.

The Press published the message under a headline saying: "Here is a message in Steele case."

The message was published Wednesday as police continued their search for the death weapon.

Mrs. Steele, wife of Municipal Judge Robert L. Steele, was found dead in her bed by her husband who said he heard popping sounds in their downstairs bedrooms while he was upstairs checking on their sleeping children.

1 To 20 Given In Theft Of Auto

LISBON — Thomas Hampson, 22, of Hunter Ave., LaCroft, was sentenced Wednesday in Common Pleas Court to 1 to 20 years in the Ohio State Reformatory for auto theft.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard imposed sentence after Hampson withdrew an application for probation made Oct. 8 when he admitted the July 30 theft of a sedan owned by William R. Moore of 728 Green Ln., East Liverpool.

Judge Buzzard said Hampson may have credit on the reformatory sentence for time spent in the County Jail since pleading guilty.

3 Community Centers Report To Park Board

The centers are operating in former elementary school buildings which the city acquired from the Board of Education. Tom Miller and Jim Lawrence reported on the North Side center in the former Lincoln School; Mrs. Bea Henderson reported for the Community Resource Center in the former Garfield building, and Earl Groubert reported on the Pleasant Heights Center in the former Pleasant Heights School. The resource center will hold an open house program Jan. 27.

Don Eckert, planning coordinator, said he was gratified by the "hard work, initiative and cooperation" shown in the progress at the centers to date.

Hope Held Note Published Will Be Slaying Clue

EUCLID, Ohio (AP) — A mysterious message published in the Cleveland Press at the request of police held the hope today of a clue in the pistol slaying of Mrs. Marlene Steele.

The message was: 'LIAJEF."

Police Chief Frank Payne said he had been told he would receive information concerning the slaying of the 37-year-old mother of two last week if the letters appeared in a newspaper.

The message was published Wednesday as police continued their search for the death weapon.

Mrs. Steele, wife of Municipal Judge Robert L. Steele, was found dead in her bed by her husband who said he heard popping sounds in their downstairs bedrooms while he was upstairs checking on their sleeping children.

1 To 20 Given In Theft Of Auto

LISBON — Thomas Hampson, 22, of Hunter Ave., LaCroft, was sentenced Wednesday in Common Pleas Court to 1 to 20 years in the Ohio State Reformatory for auto theft.

Judge Raymond S. Buzzard imposed sentence after Hampson withdrew an application for probation made Oct. 8 when he admitted the July 30 theft of a sedan owned by William R. Moore of 728 Green Ln., East Liverpool.

Judge Buzzard said Hampson may have credit on the reformatory sentence for time spent in the County Jail since pleading guilty.

3 Community Centers Report To Park Board

The centers are operating in former elementary school buildings which the city acquired from the Board of Education. The resource center will hold an open house program Jan. 27.
